Diesel plant to add 1,000 employees

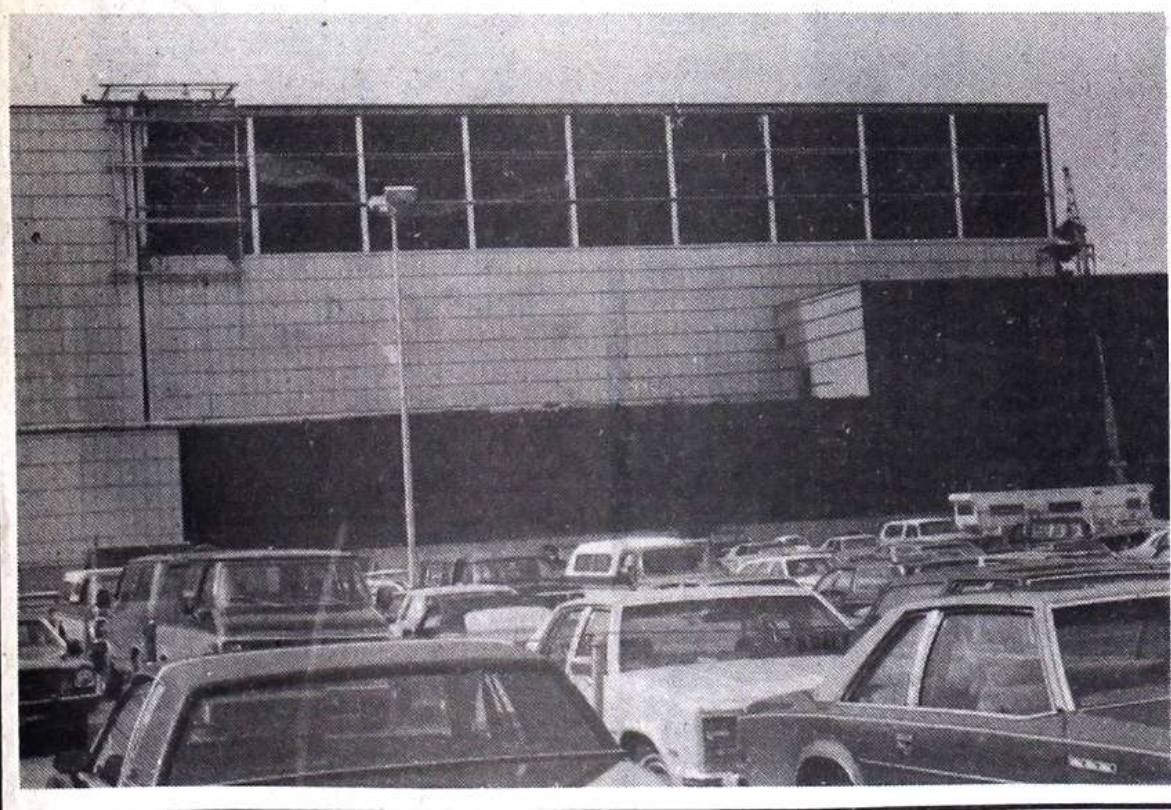

Completion date Oct. 1, 1979 of the General Motors Detroit Diesel engine plant (shown above) on Ecorse Road west of the C & O Railroad in Romulus is expected to add 1,000 new jobs. The huge 377,500 square foot structure will have a 75,000 engine per year producing capacity for the 8.2 liter diesel engine designed for use in medium duty trucks. Also located in the new building will be administrative offices. In background (at left) can be seen part of the new 230,000 square foot engineering building which will be used to house equipment to test engines for compliance with EPA requirements. The engineering building will be completed early next year, but equipment will not be completely installed until 1980. (Photo by Jay Young, Romulus public information officer.)

Huge crane attempts impossible

Huge crane (upper left) will attempt to lift large air-conditioning and heating housings atop 85-foot high parts distribution center for the General Motors Detroit Diesel division on Ecorse Road west of the C & O Railroad in Romulus. A helicopter which attempted to lift one of the 26 housings to the top of the 570,000 square foot building proved inadequate for the task and company officials resorted to the huge crane. If that proves too difficult, a larger helicopter may be employed. To lift the housings to the required height means that the crane will have to reach a height of at least 100 feet above the ground to reach the top of the building in lower photo. Pupils in for thrill

City schools buy 11 buses

Some of the students in the Romulus school district soon will have the thrill of riding to classes on brand new buses.

Last week (Monday) the Romulus school board voted to award bids for the purchase of nine 66-passenger and two 48-passenger buses for a total expenditure of $226,338.

Supt. James Garfield explained that a trade-in allowance of $26,300 on one of the two successful low bidders will bring the actual outlay down to $200,038.

The board's decision to buy the 11 new buses came on the recommendation contained in a report submitted by Thomas M. Janack, assistant superintendent for maintenance and operations.

Low bidder with trade-in allowance on nine 66-passenger and two 48-passenger bodies was Great Lakes Coach Sales Company of Dearborn at $81,334. Low bidder on the 11 chassis for the 11 buses was the Ed Carpenter Dodge Sales of Wayne at $118,704.

Garfield said the school district attempts to turn over the entire bus fleet, which now numbers about 60 buses and vans, every five years. Past practice has been to replace about 20 percent of the total each year, he said, because buses have an average life expectancy of approximately five years.

The 11 new buses will be paid off in five years from funds allocated in the yearly school budget, the superintendent said.

By way of comparison, school records show that since the 1970-71 school year, costs for bus chassis and bodies have doubled.

In the 1970-71 school year, one bus chassis and one bus body cost the Romulus school district $10,057.15, while the current purchase shows cost for the same two units to be $20,870. However, the 1978-79 figures do not include trade-in allowance.

Every little bit counts

Local schools to cut taxes in Romulus

This coming December will bring an unexpected Christmas present to taxpayers living in the Romulus school district - a reduction in school taxes.

A .545-mill decrease, made possible only this year under Section 21-1 of the state aid bill, would save the owner of a house assessed at $20,000 a savings of about $11 in the total tax bill.

Supt. James Garfield explained that the legislation pertains only to school districts which levy more than 30 mills for operating purposes. Romulus Public Schools currently levy 36.15 mills for operation and the reduction will lower the total millage levied to 35.605, he said.

The lowering of school tax bills due this coming December was made possible by board action Sept. 11 which took advantage of the new legislation.

Garfield said Romulus school district taxpayers will save a total of about $123,000 for the 1978-79 school year under the tax reduction.

He emphasized that the school tax decrease would not be for any school year but the current one as specified in the state legislation.

Public hearing to be set

Huron school budget down $600,000; blame enrollment

Proposed budget for the 1978-79 school year in Huron Public Schools is expected to be down nearly $600,000 as a result of lowered revenues brought about by decreased student enrollment.

Phil Dalley, administrative assistant to the superintendent, said the school board will be asked to recommend a public hearing on the budget Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. prior to the regular board session.

Dalley explained that although state aid increases per student when enrollment is down, the drop from 4,003 students last year to around 3,000 for the coming school year will result in a decrease in overall revenue for the school district.

Last year, the school budget was $5,363,000. Last July 17, the administration presented a proposed 1978-79 school budget of $4,778,000, or nearly $600,000 less, Dalley said.

That budget, one of several shown to the board in July, was predicted on 25 mills in operating millage and a 3,100 student enrollment. The recent successful millage election puts the Huron school district back to that level of operation, he said.

Dalley said that although the fourth Friday in October headcount usually establishes student enrollment, a longer period of time is required to determine the number of adult education students. Therefore, the total student enrollment may take a little longer to establish, he added.

Group buys city land

A $400,000 ballpark eyed for city kids

Romulus youngsters hopefully will benefit in the years to come as the result of action taken last week (Tuesday) by the city council.

Council voted to lease 13 acres of city-owned land for $1 a year for 10 years to the Romulus North Little League Baseball group for a baseball complex in the area of Henry Ruff and Beverly roads, directly behind Henry Ruff.

The project, which will include five baseball diamonds and is expected to involve an outlay of some $400,000, recently was endorsed by We the People in the list of local programs it will assist.

Romulus North Little League Baseball has its office at 9608 Marc in Romulus.

Ad-visor

NOTE: Ad-visors is a new column featured by the Associated Newspapers, starting this week. Here we'll briefly highlight business news about new products, grand openings, promotions, anniversaries, and other good news, as a special service for the people we do business with.

ON THE MARK

What's new at Mark Chevrolet? George Gola is. He's the newest member of the used car staff. Also, congratulations to Mike Kerr, salesman in the new car department, for achieving top sales for the month of August.

ALEXANDER EATS HERE

... And so do all his friends. We're talking about the Alexander the Great Restaurant, 34733 Warren, Westland, which is celebrating its first anniversary in business, according to owner Walter Stevanovich. There's a great variety of dishes, and of course, a great Greek salad, so stop by and help celebrate.

CHOICE CUTS

... Are offered by Mark's Meat Gallery, 34785 Warren, Westland, and they include sirloins, rib eye, filets and other good things. The combined meat shop and deli is having its grand opening, according to owner Mark Decapite, and has just put up a sign. He specializes in freezer cuts, and homemade sausages and lunchmeats, so customers can find a good buy in everything from a single chop to a whole side of beef.

THEY'RE INN AT RAMADA

There are some new faces in management at the Ramada Inn of Romulus, 8270 Wickham Road, Romulus. Jim Brunetti has taken over as manager, John Loconto as food and beverage chief at the Squires Restaurant, and Kathy Bryant as director of sales management. Congratulations, everyone!

HE'S AT ONE

Daniel J. Page has joined the staff of Real Estate One Licensing Inc. as coordinator of the commercial investment program. He will be developing a standardized training package and marketing session for all commercial, investment, and business opportunity sales associates in the 37 Detroit and 45 affiliated offices.

GREAT SCOTT'S COOKIN'

Great Scott Supermarkets, second largest chain in southeastern Michigan, is launching a program to help Americans make their own fast food at home. The program will include the giveaway of 73 Meal-In-One Litton microwave ovens, valued at $629 each, during the next four weeks. Entry blanks are available at Great Scott stores, or Litton dealerships. One oven will be given away at each of the supermarkets. The final week is Oct. 7.

SOMEPLACE FOR TRAILERS

Since many small towns and townships now have ordinances preventing mobile home owners from keeping their vehicles on their own property, Mickey and Emil Abiaad have come up with a new idea for this area. Michigan Storage is a 2½-acre fenced, lighted lot where space can be rented to park your mobile home, boat or trailer yearly or by the month, and leave it there until you need it again. The lot is in Canton Township, about a half mile east of I-275.

RECYCLING CENTER OPENS

Bring your copper, your brass, your aluminum — all your non-ferrous metals to the new H & H Metals recycling center which just opened Sept. 11 at 29131 Michigan, Inkster. The installation is run by Harold Guz, formerly of Lafayette Recycling Corp. He will pay for non-ferrous metal scraps which are brought in.

HILTON BUFFET DEBUTS

A buffet style luncheon, tailored to the short lunch hours of businessmen, is now being served in Delphine's Lounge at the Hilton Inn, 13500 Wick Road, Romulus, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. It costs mnlly $2.98.

MAGOO HERE, TOO

Disco dancing fever has come to Canton Township, in the form of a new disco club, Mr. Magoo's on Michigan Avenue, just east of Sheldon Road, in place of the former Red Door. The new Magoo opened Sept. 8.

Here's some common sense tips on locking up your vacation home

Labor Day weekend marked the start of an annual ritual for many hundreds of thousands of Americans — the closing and securing of a vacation home or cottage.

While many such homes are used through October, and others with central heat used the year around on weekends, there are several basic, common-sense precautions which every owner should take according to R. D. Hill, manager of the Detroit office of Pinkerton's Inc., the nation's oldest and largest private security firm.

According to Hill, these measures will minimize the danger of theft, vandalism, fire or weather damage.

First, if you are closing your house for an entire season, remove small objects of value such as radios, portable TV sets and stereo equipment. The vast majority of break-ins of unoccupied vacation homes are by teen-agers seeking two things — objects which can be quickly sold for a few dollars and liquor. Don't leave expensive hard liquor or wines stored anywhere in the house. It will be discovered and, if consumed on the spot, may lead to vandalism. If you can't remove all objects of apparent value, at least remove them from the view of someone peering through a window.

Never leave firearms in a vacation house, unless they have had their firing pins removed and are fully inoperable such as old shotguns or muskets used for wall decoration.

If you are closing your vacation home until next spring, there are special precautions to take. Needless to say, door and window locks should be in place everywhere. Sliding patio doors can be secured with a broom handle in the track. Shades and drapes should be generally drawn on windows which an intruder could see through. But on high windows which can't be easily reached, vary the shade treatment a bit; total uniformity is a dead giveaway that the house is closed.

The best single precaution you can take is to hire a reliable year-around resident to check your house regularly. If you don't know of such a person, confer with the local police chief or sheriff. Be prepared to pay such a person well to visit your house at least once a week — more often if the heating system is left on — and check all doors and windows.

On every other visit, your "house checker" should enter the house and walk through each room. As a result of the severe winter of 1977-'78, tens of thousands of vacation home owners found severe interior damage from leaks and from ice working its way under eaves. In many instances the damage could have been minimized had it been spotted and repairs made early.

Bathrooms and kitchens are special trouble areas. If the water is not shut off and there is some minimal heat source left on, put a little anti-freeze in toilet tanks as a safety precaution.

If your house is used on weekends and you leave thermostats set at 45 or 50 degrees, it may be wise to have your furnace equipped with an alarm which sounds when the furnace fails for any reason — but only, of course, if someone can hear such an alarm and respond.

If you do have a reliable "house-watcher", it may be advisable to have him turn on the heat on occasion in a fully-closed house, or, if there is no central heating, have him build a fire in a fireplace or wood stove. In prolonged periods of damp and cold, considerable damage can be done by mildew. As an alternative, there also are commercial products available which when opened soak up the moisture in a house.

If your house is within earshot of occupied homes, an alarm system may be a worthwhile investment. If it's not within earshot of an occupied home, chances are a would-be intruder will feel that he has ample working time to break-in and he will persist.

Be absolutely certain that deliveries of newspapers, milk, or packages will not be made after you finish closing up your house. A September newspaper in the door discovered in December is the equivalent of a note telling an intruder that he can take all the time he wants to ransack your place.

She's a winner

Angie Ganger of Belleville has been declared first-place winner in one of the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate's bike-a-thons, held in Allen Park early this summer. Angie was selected as the biker who brought in the most sponsored dollars for the event and was awarded a Fuji 10-speed bicycle for her efforts. Eight-year-old Angie rides in the bike-a-thon for a very special reason. Scott, her four-year-old brother, has been diabetic for three years. He also participated in the event, and was presented a trophy for being the youngest rider. To date, more than $80,000 has been collected in pledges from 19 bike-athon routes held throughout Michigan this year. The proceeds raised will help support the association's programs of diabetes research, detection, education, and Camp Midicha, a special medically supervised summer camp for children with diabetes.

Some say it's bad luck to burn sassafras wood.

In Brief--

Weekend dumps to end

The last day for weekend dumpster service in Romulus this year will be Saturday, Sept. 30, according to public information officer Jay Young.

The extra service provided during the busy summer months allows residents the opportunity to bring large, disposable items to the DPW yard at 34100 Goddard Rd. between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturdays. This is the second year the program has been offered, with some 15 persons using the facility on an average weekend. The program this year ran for four months, from June through September, and was manned by Patrick Vaughn, a retired Romulus School system employee.

Eight vacancies double occupancy still exist for the annual fall trip sponsored by the Romulus Recreation Department Oct. 20-24 to Opryland in Nashville, to Gatlinburg and the Smokies.

A total of 38 reservations will be made for the four-day trip, according to Mrs. Donna Lee Zavitz, senior citizens coordinator. Eligible to go on the trip are senior citizens and mature adults.

Cost of the trip is $179 double occupancy for Romulus residents and $199 double occupancy for non-residents of Romulus.

The trip will leave from the Romulus senior citizens drop-in center, Bibbins and Shook, at 7:30 a.m. Oct. 20 and return on the evening on Oct. 24.

For reservations and further information, call 941-0666, extension 67 or 68.

Rishel benefit Oct. 20

A benefit dance, featuring music by "Soft Touch," a light finger meal, door prizes and refreshments, will be held for Elaine Rishel on Friday, Oct. 20 from 8 p.m. until midnight at the Romulus Progressive Club, 11580 Ogza Rd. near Five Points in Romulus.

Tickets for the evening's entertainment are $7.50 per person, with all proceeds going to the Elaine Rishel Medical Fund Trust.

Elaine is 11-year-old Romulus fifth grader who recently underwent a kidney transplant to correct a rare kidney disease. The dance is being sponsored by a group of concerned neighbors. For tickets call 941-1928.

Business manager quits

Harold Hines, business manager for the Romulus Public Schools, has resigned and will be employed in a similar capacity in the Northville school system.

Hines, who came to Romulus from Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, was employed here for two years.

Supt. James Garfield said the job opening has been posted and hopefully will be filled by the end of October.

Wick students cited

Students at Wick Elementary School in Romulus have received congratulations from the state superintendent of public instruction for "significant improvement" in reading and mathematics.

State Supt. John W. Porter, in a letter this summer to Eugene Barr, principal, said: "Based on 1978 data, your students have shown significant improvement in the mastery of the reading and mathematics objectives measured by the Michigan Educational Assessment Program."

Porter's letter stated that attention usually is focused on "lack of achievement and poor test scores" and that recognition of achievement should not go unnoticed.

His letter contained congratulations also for the school's staff and citizens of the community.

Adult ed still open

Time still remains for adults who wish to work towards their high school diploma or who wish to enroll in courses for fun and learning in the Huron Public Schools adult education program.

Classes available include: drafting, plastics, plumbing, machine shop, private pilot ground school, leathercraft, stretch and sew, disco dancing, general science, bible, metrics, auto mechanics, essential math, nurse's assistant, men's gym and women's gymnastics.

Classes are free to non-graduates and a small charge will be assessed for those who already possess a high school diploma.

For additional information, call 782-1505 from 1:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, or 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

Area churches set classes on divorce

Divorce has often been a forbidden word in a Catholic home. The church has viewed marriage as an unending covenant between a couple and God. A second marriage after divorce excommunicated from the Church since it violated this covenant.

With the rise of divorces, the church has been trying to deal with the problems of single parents and the divorced. The work of the church is however often unknown. Concern for Catholics who are single parents, divorced, or divorced and remarried is the topic of a program of three local Catholic Churches.

Saints Aloysius (Romulus), Anthony (Belleville), and Stephen (New Boston) are sponsoring a two night program to help local Catholics who are single parents, divorced, or divorced and remarried.

On Sunday, Oct. 1 at 7:30 p.m., Sister Audrey Pierce, a social worker with Wayne County Catholic Social Services, will speak at St. Aloysius School. She will address herself to the problems of the divorced and single parents.

On Sunday, Oct. 8, the Rev. Joseph Verhelle, a member of the Archdiocesan Marriage Tribunal, will be speaking with Dorothy McDonald of the Catholic Divorced Community. Rev. Verhelle will talk about annulments and what is possible today for a person. Dorothy McDonald will deal with programs for divorced Catholics who are affiliated with the Church.

Both nights will be at St. Aloysius School in Romulus. There are no reservations needed. All sessions are free.

List of businesses sent to responders of survey last June

A list of business and industrial establishments in the city of Romulus has been mailed to all firms who responded to a survey made by the city's public information office in June.

Mayor William M. Oakley said the survey was made at that time in answer to a request from the industrial coordinator's office.

In his cover letter which accompanied the list, Oakley stated, "This information will serve to update our records and will form the nucleus of an accurate accounting of the varied manufacturing and commercial enterprises in our city. "This will allow us to more intelligently answer questions and direct inquiries from outside the community regarding Romulus' business and industrial climate."

The mayor also asked for suggestions from city firms on how the city could better serve their individual or corporate needs.

His letter concluded, "By providing the city administration with the essential facts about your operation, you have helped establish a better working relationship between the city and its business and industrial residents."

Fast work pays off

Huron police nab suspect

Swift work by the Huron Township Police Department resulted in the capture of a suspect in the robbery Sept. 7 of the party store at Vining and Huron River Drive.

Charged with assault with intent to commit armed robbery is William D. Thomas, 23, of Woodhaven. Police Chief Joe Carney said Thomas was on parole at the time of the robbery for an armed robbery in Romulus.

Carney said Thomas entered the party store about 3:20 p.m. and bought a bottle of pop from Janice Keeler, whose father owns the establishment. In the store at the time were her mother, Mary, and two sisters, Laura and Carol, he said.

About 10 minutes later, Thomas returned, the chief reported, and gave a note to Janice which stated he would kill them if he was not given money in the register.

Carney said the girl screamed "No!" at the man, who then fled from the store, jumped into a car and sped away.

Sgt. Dave Patterson, who worked the investigation, traced Thomas to Woodhaven where authorities picked him up the following Monday and turned him over to Huron police.

Thomas was arraigned on the assault charge Tuesday of last week in the Romulus 34th District Court before Judge James Stone. He was remanded to the Wayne County Jail when he failed to post $10,000 bond. His examination before Judge Stone will be Sept. 20.

City, county air views on airport

"A free-wheeling and frank exchange of concerns" is how one participant characterized a meeting between top city officials and Wayne County Road Commission member held recently at the Metro Airport.

The informal gathering, the first of its kind to involve road commissioners and city officials directly, was the result of a long-postponed arrangement made during Michigan Week back in May.

In the past, while the public was being conducted through a behind-the-scenes tour of the airport, city and county officials would meet in an informal social setting to discuss areas of mutual concern.

This year, it was suggested that the road commissioners themselves be involved, which eventually led to the meeting last week.

The topics for discussion were many, but a sample of some of the more current included questions about the nature of the 28-month airport study sponsored by the Road Commission, the eventual development of county-owned land around the airport, and concerns about other county road improvements, including the Wayne Road widening project and future improvements to Ecorse Road and feeder routes to the airport, such as Merriman and Eureka roads.

Because of the informal nature of the meeting, many of the specific facts required to adequately answer the inquiries were not available. However, the broad concerns of city officials were aired and it was agreed that a similar meeting should take place next month after further research by both sides.

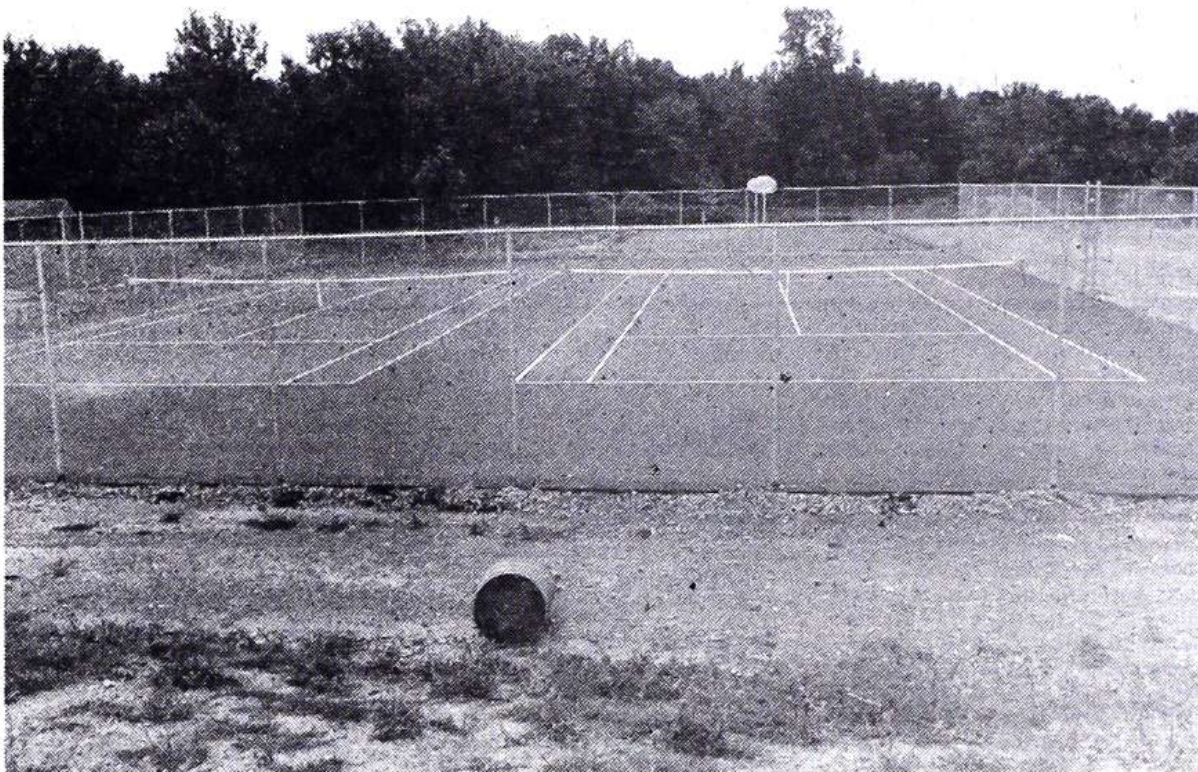

Mayor William M. Oakley, who headed the Romulus delegation, said he thought the meeting was "valuable," but "many more questions remain to be answered."

One of his major complaints, was the lack of responsiveness by county officials to "everyday" problems to Romulus residents, such as drainage, flight patterns and road conditions at the airport.

Council member Beverly McAnally, who strongly endorsed this first meeting, was particularly vocal in her opposition to nighttime jet flights into Metro. Commissioners responded by ordering a special report to be conducted and delivered at the next meeting.

Completing the Romulus contingent of elected officials were Council members Mary Carter and Gerry Canejo.

The county was represented by Chairman Michael Berry and Commissioner Freddie G. Burton, as well as other top county administrators.

Public tennis courts open

13 Teachers leave Huron since June

Since the end of the last school year, the Huron Public Schools have lost two administrators and 13 teachers, mostly to other school districts.

Supt. Byron Antcliff admitted that the shaky financial picture the last few months in the school district had probably influenced their departure.

The Sept. 7 millage election which saw school district voters approve a 10-mill levy for one year has temporarily kept Huron public school afloat.

But, the fact that the school board had asked district voters to okay the same millage amount on two previous occasions for 10 years and five years when they failed indicate the school district will soon be asking for more millage again.

Antcliff said that the ability of staff members leaving the Huron school system to obtain other employment so readily indicated the "high quality" of teachers and administrators in the district.

None of the positions vacated by the departing 15 staff members have been replaced, Antcliff said.

Help Center head named

Alton Shelly effective Oct. 9 of this year will become the new director of the Romulus Help Center, 35085 Goddard Rd. The center is a private, non-profit agency which operates with the help of funds from the city, state and federal governments.

Shelly, who had served for nine years as area supervisor for the Family and Neighborhood Services agency in the Romulus area, will replace Leonard Melnick, who left last month to assume new employment.

The center provides counseling services for persons with drug abuse problems and operates a home services program and minor home repair program for senior citizens. It also administers a home loan and grant program for home repair for all residents of the community.

A resident of Wayne, Shelly is married. He and his wife, Elisabeth, are the parents of three teenage sons.

Building permits hit 60 in August

A total of 60 building permits of all types adding up to $788,567 in construction costs were issued during August by the Romulus building department, according to Ed Fall, department director.

Of the total 37 issued for residential purposes, five were for one-family houses, one for demolition of a building and 31 for residential additions and alteration. Total estimated construction costs for residential dwellings amounted to $307,667.

Of the 23 permits issued for other types of construction totalling $480,900, nine were for garages and carports, one for a commercial building, three for industrial buildings, one for a sign, four for fences, three for mobile homes and two for swimming pools.

The commercial building permit is for a Dollar-a-day Rent-a-car, on Merriman Road between Smith and Ecorse roads at a cost of $200,000.

The three industrial building permits were for: Circle Air Freight on Metroplex between Ecorse and Middlebelt roads - $61,500; industrial building on Hildebrandt between Harrison and Middlebelt roads - $117,600; and office addition to the Earle Equipment Co. on Middlebelt Road between Smith and Ecorse Roads - $62,000.

Senior high-rise is topic

A public meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 28, 1978 at the United Methodist Church, 11160 Olive St., for the purpose of allowing citizens to ask questions of Leo Sklar, the successful bidder for the property currently occupied by the Romulus Elementary School.

Sklar, the city's designated senior citizen housing agent, has agreed to answer as many questions as possible concerning his plans for development of this land for a senior citizens high-rise apartment.

Since the meeting date coincides with We the People's monthly meeting, they have agreed to help promote and co-sponsor the informational meeting.

Mayor "lights up" sales drive

Mayor William M. Oakley is shown being torn apart by two Lions in their attempt to sell him a "six-pack" of light bulbs as part of the local organization's first annual light bulb sale. The package, which contains two 100-watt, two 75-watt and two 60-watt bulbs, sells at the normal retail price of $2.50. However, in this instance, the proceeds will go to club's sight conservation and hearing and speech programs. Other projects sponsored throughout the year by the Lions include candy cane sales in December, white can sales in May and an annual raffle coming up next month. Pictured with Mayor Oakley are Joe Player (left), chairman of the light bulb project, and Archie Vaughn, secretary-treasurer of the club. The Lions meet the first and third Wednesdays of the month at the Red Apple Restaurant at Venoy and Michigan. For more information call 941-9454. Photo by Jay Young Romulus public information officer.)

County layoffs likely

Wayne County commissioners, under court pressure to begin paying a $6.3 million arbitration award to Sheriff's deputies, have voted to lay off some 1,200 county and CETA employees, beginning Oct. 9.

However, commissioners have vowed to protect senior citizen programs and "fight" the terms of the award all the way to the Michigan Supreme Court.

The impending layoff action was taken by the Ways and Means Committee of the County Board of Commissioners on Sept. 14 after county lawyers told them an appeal to stay the court order to pay the deputies nearly $2 million in benefits by Sept. 29 was denied — and that the board faced a contempt of court citation, if it failed to comply immediately.

The Board of Auditors recommended the layoffs, stating that the financially-strapped county would need an additional $2.5 million to implement the arbitration award through Nov. 30, the end of the county fiscal year.

The auditors said the county had no new sources of revenue, was headed toward a $12 million deficit, and that extensive layoffs in all reas-of county government were the only solution to meeting the costs of the arbitration award without increasing the deficit.

"The county will be back in court on Sept. 21 asking for a rehearing on the court order to comply with the arbitration ruling," Jarrette Simmons, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, declared.

She said the county would pursue "every legal approach to overturn the hefty arbitration award."

Judge Thomas Roumell, a Circuit Court Judge, issued a writ of mandamus on Aug. 17 ordering the commissioners to comply with the terms of the arbitration award which includes a 17.7 percent wage increase and numerous fringe benefits such as fully-paid dental care and $5 per month toward private automobile insurance. The contract is retroactive to July 1, 1977 and runs through Nov. 30, 1979.

"It is the retroactive pay benefits that has caused the current layoff crisis in the county," said Richard E. Manning, vice chairman of the board. "Our payroll department has estimated it will cost us $1.6 million in retroactive benefits, payable before Sept. 29.

"I just don't see how the court expects compliance without serious damage to other vital county services — and without excessive hardship on some 922 regular county employees and 300 CETA personnel who face the loss of their jobs, if we cannot win a reversal of the decision in the appeals process."

Simmons urged the Ways and Means Committee to exempt employees needed to maintain senior citizens nutrition programs from the layoff threat. The Ways and Means action was subject to the approval of the full Board of Commissioners. However, the Ways and Means Committee meets as a committee of the whole and includes all 27 commissioners. The vote was 19 yes, and two no, with six commissioners absent.

Simmons said "there is a glimmer of hope for the county if the courts overturn the arbitration award. I think we have a good chance to win in court — especially when the judges can understand the total impact on public services and the operation of the county in general."

Slides to be shown

More than 300 nature slides accepted in the 45th Detroit International Salon of Photography will be presented in an hour-long program at the nature center of Stony Creek Metropark near Rochester and Utica on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday 24 at 2 p.m.

The Salon, sponsored by the Greater Detroit Camera Club Council, is will established in the photographic community and it enjoys international prominence. Park naturalist Roger Bajorek explained that the Council has exhibited the slides at the nature center the past four years and this may be the best yet.

The program is "free", however, space is limited and advance registration is required. For information or registration contact the nature center at Stony Creek Metropark at 781-4621 (Washington Exchange).

Rep. Owen's proposal codifies occupational licensure statutes

State Rep. Gary Owen (D-22nd District) has introduced a bill which codifies many of the occupational licensure statutes that fall under the province of the Department of Licensing and Regulation.

House Bill 6665 codifies all licensure statutes within the Department of Licensing and Regulation, except the 13 medical profession statutes recently listed in the new Public Health Code.

House Bill 6665 codifies all licensure statutes within the Department of Licensing and Regulation, except the 13 medical profession statutes recently listed in the new Public Health Code.

Professions affected include architects, engineers, certified public accountants, cosmetologists, barbers, builders, real estate brokers, social workers and many others. A total of 22 licensure statutes are included in the bill.

The bill is the result of the work of two House of Representatives special committees — the Committee to Investigate the Department of Licensing and Regulation created in 1975 and the Committee to Codify the Statutes within the Department of Licensing and Regulation, created in 1977. Both committees were chaired by Rep. Owen.

The first special committee published its final report in February 1977.

"This report identified many problems within the Department of Licensing and Regulation and specifically called for a codification of the licensure statutes within that department. It argued that the new licensure code I have introduced should be written for the sole purpose of protecting the health, safety and welfare of the consumer of occupational services," Owen said.

House Bill 6665 for one-third public membership on all licensure boards and establishes uniformity on all licensure boards as to size, terms of office for board members, compensation and qualifications.

The new code also revamps the procedure for the processing of consumer complaints within the Department of Licensing and Regulation by requiring that all complaints be processed according to a set timetable and by allowing licensure boards to assess new and expanded penalties for code violations including ordering restitution, civil fines and institution of criminal prosecutions.

Rep. Owen added that "for too long this state's professional licensure boards have been self serving and have not truly viewed their role as the protector of the consumers of the services which their respective professions provided."

Owen went on to say that "house

Dance specials slated

The choreography of Twyla Tharp is said to display a unique, seemingly spontaneous style which makes it appealing to dance connoisseurs and general audiences alike. Two of the three dance specials airing on Channel 56 during the week of Sept. 24-30 will feature her creations.

On Wednesday at 9 p.m., it's a combination of dance and technology on the special "Making Television Dance."

On the same program, Mikhail Baryshnikov joins Twyla Tharp in rehearsal for another dance, "Once More Frank."

Following "Making Television Dance" at 10 p.m., will be an encore presentation from the "Great Performances" series, "The Pennsylvania Ballet."

On Sept. 30, at 8 p.m., it's the third dance special of the week, "Twyla Tharp and Dancers."

A mixture of American popular dancing and classic form emerges from this hour-long special. Twyla Tharp's creation, "Sue's Leg," is performed to the music of jazz great Fats Waller including "Ain't Misbehavin'," "Livin' in a Great Big Way" and more.

Bill 6665, by creating structural and procedural uniformity throughout the professions, by giving the public more input into the regulatory process."

Consumer program planned

A public consumer education program, "Consumers Can Compete", slated for Cobo Hall Oct. 17 will emphasize the need for consumer awareness in the marketplace.

Principal speakers will be Donald Kennedy, commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, (FDA); Michael Pertschuk, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission; Esther Shapiro, director of the Office of Consumer Affairs, City of Detroit, and Agnes Bryant, chairperson of the Michigan Consumer Council.

In addition, five panels of authorities representing consumer organizations, educational institutions, government, industry, health officials and the professions of medicine, pharmacy and dietetics outline their specific concerns about food, drugs, cosmetics and government decision making.

The panels are food labeling: How You Want It, Food Fads: Fact and Fancy, Drugs: Looking At What We Are Taking, Cosmetics: The Dream Factory and Consumer Input: Petition, Proposal and Participation.

The program is sponsored by the Michigan Consumer Ad Hoc Committee of FDA.

For registration or information call (313) 226-6260 or write Seminar and Workshop, FDA, 1560 East Jefferson, Detroit 48207.

Registration is $2 and the luncheon including the registration is $7.75 for the program which is open to the public.

Voting: Convenience overshadowed by statistics

(This is one of a series of a public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.)

By ATT. GEN.
FRANK KELLEY

Did you know that the President of this country was chosen by a minority? That's right. In 1976, less than half of the nearly eight million registered voters in this country bothered to express their preference for the nation's highest office. In other words, President Carter leads our nation today because less than 5 percent of this country's 200 million residents voted for him.

In Michigan, only 3.5 million of the 5.5 million registered voters actually made it to the polls for the 1976 elections. That's roughly one third of this state's eight million-plus people. This is in sharp contrast to most of the major representative governments in the world, where often 90-95 percent of the population votes.

These statistics are particularly distressing in view of Michigan's excellent voting system, which virtually eliminates any excuse for not voting. Michigan prides itself on having numerous conveniently located polls open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Thus, the time and opportunity to vote are there.

For those who cannot make it to the polls on election day, Michigan offers a convenient method of casting an absentee ballot. A person need only apply by letter or in person to his township, village, or city clerk for a ballot. Or, a person can cast an absentee ballot, which will be mailed or given on the spot.

The application period for an absentee ballot is generous, beginning 75 days before the election and ending at 2 p.m. the last Saturday before election day.

The clerk's office will issue an absentee ballot for nearly any good reason. According to state law, you can vote by absentee ballot if:

- (1) You are physically disabled;
- (2) Your religion prohibits you from going to the polls on election day;
- (3) You are an election precinct worker who must work in a precinct other than the one in which you live;
- (4) You are over 60 years of age;
- (5) You will be away from home on election day, and
- (6) You are a prisoner in a jail awaiting arraignment or trial.

To vote in Michigan, a person must be 18 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and have lived in the municipality for at least 30 days before the election. New voters can register at the nearest Secretary of State office, or at the office of the city, township, or village clerk. Michigan's voting system is set up to make it possible for everyone to vote. The right to vote is just too important to be given away by laziness.

What's for lunch?

Variety will be the password next week in the Van Buren schools' cafeterias next weeks.

At Quirk-Savage and West Willow schools, where the lunches are served family style, the menu Monday will be corn dogs or turkey salad on submarine buns, hot spiced apple slices, peaches, cookies and milk, followed by baked meat loaf with brown gravy, mashed potatoes, beets, green beans, bread and butter, fruit Jell-O and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the cafeteria will be serving beef turnovers, mashed potatoes and gravy, tossed salads with Italian dressing, peaches, pears, cake and milk.

Next Thursday's main entree will be pizza, with side dishes of carrot and celery sticks, radishes, fruit Jello-O, mixed fruit, pudding and milk, while closing out the week will be a menu of tuna noodle casserole or macaroni and cheese, cole slaw, pears, cobbler, bread and butter and milk.

At the other elementary schools the menu Monday will be ravioli with meat sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, cookies and milk, followed by a lineup of tacos, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit, cookies and milk.

Wednesday the cafeterias will be serving juice, sloppy joes on buns, french fries, fruit Jell-O, cake and milk, with a lineup of soup, pizza, salad, cole slaw or a vegetable, pudding and milk slated for next Thursday.

Topping off the week will be a menu of fishwich on buns with tartar sauce, tator rounds, fruit Jell-O, cobbler and milk.

In the junior and senior high schools the menu Monday will be cheeseburger on buns or club sandwiches, corn, french fries, fruit Jell-O, peaches and milk or a cold drink, with beef-O-roni or cone island footlongs, bread and butter, tossed salads, french fries, mixed fruit, tator tots and milk or a cold drink on tap for Tuesday.

Next Wednesday's bill of fare will be meatballs and gravy or Belleville burgers with cheese, with side dishes of french fries, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, fruit Jell-O and milk or a cold drink.

Next Thursday the cafeterias will be serving corn dogs on sticks of chopped steak sandwiches, french fries, tossed salads, tator tots, juice, bavarian cream pie and milk or a cold drink, with a fish on buns with tartar sauce or shrimp in buns with cocktail sauce, cole slaw, pineapple, french fries, Jell-O and milk or a cold drink topping off the week.

VA has work-study programs

Veterans tallying up their expenditures when they enroll or return to college next month may find that they need extra cash in order to complete their education.

Frank Kilcullen, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Detroit, says a work-study program administered by the VA may be the solution for extra funds.

College students taking a full course load are eligible for up to 750 hours of employment each fiscal year under the work-study program. Students are paid $2.65 each hour and work either in VA offices, facilities or at college campuses.

Kilcullen urged veterans who will need such jobs to apply as early as possible in order to avoid delays in getting schedules set up for the work year.

Kilcullen pointed out about half of Michigan veterans from the Vietnam Era had taken some training under the GI Bill, but with the 10-year time limit to use the benefit drawing to an end for many veterans, the VA wants interested veterans to know of the work-study program. Other funds are available through a student loan.

Information on supplement monetary help available for veterans taking fulltime GI Bill training is available from the VA or any veterans service organization.

County seminar set to familiarize small business with jobs

A seminar for small and minority business in Western Wayne County has been called to acquaint them with new opportunities available under an ordinance adopted by the County Board of Commissioners and approved by Gov. William Milliken.

The new ordinance, alternately called a set-aside plan, reserves 25 percent of the county's business for small and minority businesses, with 10 percent of that earmarked specifically for non-minority small firms.

New opportunities under the ordinance will be discussed at the seminar Monday at 10 a.m. in the 13th floor auditorium in the City-County Building. It is the first in a series of three seminars conducted by the county's nine-member Citizen Advisory Committee on Small and Minority Business, appointed by the Board of Commissioners.

The ordinance could mean up to $18 million next year in set-aside contracts, and perhaps as much as $7 million could be reserved strictly for minority firms which now get less than one percent of county business.

The ordinance is the first of its kind in any county in the nation, and the first adopted at any government level in Michigan. Similar set-aside programs exist in 20 states and the District Columbia, but none is as comprehensive as the Wayne County ordinance.

The ordinance defines a small business as one not dominant in its field, including manufacturing, construction, service and professional concerns. Dollar amounts in the interpretation range from a maximum of $15 million in gross receipts for manufacturing ventures to $3 million for some construction businesses.

The term "minority" in the ordinance means persons who are black, Hispanic, American Indian, Asian, Pacific Islander or Alaskan native as defined by federal or state authorities.

The plan is modeled after guidelines in federal public works legislation which requires 10 percent of public works money to be set aside for minority consideration.

Also in the ordinance is provision that contracts held aside for small and minority firms will be subsequently let to larger firms, if small or minority firms cannot meet bid requirements.

The second of the three seminars will be Sept. 27 at Wyandotte City Hall for interested downriver businesses, and the third on Sept. 28 in the City-County Building in Detroit for benefit of Detroit, Highland Park and Hamtramck business firms.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

There are many reasons why you might want your child to learn how to play a musical instrument. It might lead to a career and the financial rewards involved in professional music. Or, the rewards could be in the form of companionship and good times. Another product of a musical education is self-discipline. It is a necessary quality in life. Music is an easy way to learn that hard lesson.

A quality piano or organ from DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 will create many hours of pleasure and entertainment for your entire family. Come on by and let one of our knowledgeable staff show you around our showroom and help you choose just the instrument that will best suit your particular needs and budget requirement. Lessons by professionals are also available. Visa and MasterCard honored.

Editorial opinions

Lake accident prompts thought

The tragic death of a Southgate man, hit by a speeding boat, while floating on a small rubber raft on Belleville Lake, points out a growing problem.

The 53-year-old victim of the accident was about 25 feet from shore when the 17-foot speedboat, pulling a water skier, slammed into him and his craft. His body was not recovered until three-days-later.

The growing use of waterways by high-speed water craft, too often operated carelessly and in direct disregard of existing safe boating law, requires more than just the minimal attention the problem has attracted until now, has attracted until now.

While it is unlikely that the County Sheriff's marine patrols will be beefed-up to respond to the problem, there are other ways of dealing with it.

To date, there exists no universal speed limit for water craft on our lakes. And language applied to the use of water craft within existing law, is vague and often subject to personal interpretation.

Even when dealing with clear provisions of the law, such as the requirement that craft operate more than 100 feet from shore while pulling skiers, offenders are only rarely ticketed.

We would urge the strict application of existing law, and the establishment of new new rules with teeth.

The new rules should stipulate that anyone involved in an accident in which there was a loss of life, should, in addition to conventional penalties, be banned for life from operating a highspeed motor craft.

Such new provisions of safe boating law would necessarily require the issuing of operator's licenses for boat owners. And that licensing would provide another tool for the elimination of substantial risk operators from the lakes and rivers of Michigan.

Another step which would go a long way toward reducing the abuse of existing safe boating rules would be the requirement that all water craft registration numbers be displayed on both sides of the forward hull, but with the last four digits of the number, twice the size of the first digits.

Such a rule would make identification of the craft, from a distance, much easier. Current sized registration numbers, are almost impossible to read at any distance. The twice-size last four digits would provide quicker and clearer number recognition.

Given the current situation in Michigan, with citizens in the midst of a Tax Revolt, we are reluctant to suggest new procedures which would ultimately cause the expenditure of additional tax dollars. But it is important to realize that no one should ever be subjected to the effects of a mis-guided speeding water craft.

Additionally, it is important that we go on record as being in opposition to the rash adoption of stop gap measures.

Boating is a thrill for every member of the family. It is a pursuit which brings the family together for healthful, pleasant exercise.

But when a few, violate the rules of the road, risking the welfare of the many, it is time for the many to demand action.

Dance pavillion a good idea

The Romulus Planning Commission last week, rejected by a 6-3 vote, a proposal to build a 2,000 person dance pavillion in a remote area of the city.

We feel that, that decision is not in the best interest of the citizens of Romulus.

For too long, Romulus has endured a reputation as a smoke glutted industrial city, not suitable for people looking for the 'good life'.

It appears the majority of the city's planners, do not see the situation that way.

We have stated in the past that the solution for many of the city's current problems would result simply from attracting new residents to the community.

To achieve that goal, it will be necessary for the leaders of Romulus to support ventures that will draw people from surrounding communities into Romulus.

We feel that the dance pavillion would have provided such an attraction.

We urge members of the general public to be on hand Sept. 26 for the public hearing on the dance pavillion proposal.

At that meeting, Romulus citizens will be offered the opportunity of commenting on the merits of the pavillion proposal.

We think it is a good idea. See you at the meeting!

The Majority Leader
State Senator William Faust
13th District

Before the end of the 79th Legislature, it is imperative that the spirit of political reform first witnessed in Michigan's Campaign Financing Act be extended into other areas of our governmental process.

Without question the climate for political reform in Michigan is good.

In addition to approving the Campaign Financing Act of 1976, the Michigan Legislature is now considering two other major pieces of political reform legislation.

The first is the Lobbyist Disclosure Bill (Senate Bill 674) that would require lobbyists working with legislators to register with the Secretary of State and publicly disclose expenditures made on state lawmakers. The second measure, House Bill 5797, that would outline conflict of interest for employees of state government.

In keeping with these pending measures, I believe the time is right for revamping those rules governing the Michigan Senate.

Not since the turn of the century have the Senate Rules been reviewed and altered to reflect the changing role of the Michigan Senate Rules been reviewed and altered to reflect the changing role of the Michigan Senate and its members.

Obviously the role of the Senate has been expanded during the past 70 years.

With that expanded role has come a new kind of lawmaker. They are lawmakers who spend the major part of their year at the State Capitol considering legislation. It is only natural that we review the existing rules, discard those rules that are no longer relevant, retain those rules that are pertinent and create new rules that will fill the gaps that now exist.

As Majority Leader of the Michigan Senate I have considered it my responsibility to facilitate those changes. My staff and I spent countless hours reviewing the existing Senate rules, identifying the problems inherent with those rules and trying to pinpoint where changes should be made. In doing this we considered a study sponsored by the Ford Foundation that named Michigan among the top eight Legislatures in the country and then examined those other top Legislatures to see how Michigan could follow their example.

Earlier this month I presented my recommended changes in the Senate rules which are currently the subject of public hearings in Lansing.

Essentially the changes are designed to streamline the Senate's procedures, expand the responsibility and authority of the Office of the Majority Leader and make the Senate more accountable for its actions and expenditures.

For instance, the proposed changes would initiate a code of conduct and ethics for Senate members. The code would include the public responsibilities for each Senator and require that each Senator vote on every issue to come before the Senate unless he or she were excused from that particular session. Also included in the code would be penalty provisions for reprimand, censure or expulsion of state senators.

Under the proposed changes, the Majority Leader would be given authority to appoint committee members, assign employees and approve office expenses. Additionally he or she would refer all bills to committee and determine the extent of Senate office space and equipment purchases. Currently these responsibilities are distributed between the caucuses, the Senate Committee on Business and the Senate Committee on Committees.

While the proposed changes in the Senate Rules have been received with mixed reaction by the Senate, the media and the public, I am encouraging those opinions and open discussion. We need to approve changes that will be workable and provide the kind of flexibility needed for the efficient operation of the Michigan Senate.

I am encouraged that we will be able to agree on reform of the Senate Rules in the near future and being operating under those rules when the 80th Legislature convenes in January.

What is a 'Voucher Plan'?

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

As the man said, "we don't usually honor requests" but in this instance, for Mary Dingeldey, we make this exception.

At a recent Chamber of Commerce meeting in Van Buren Township, I was fortunate enough to find myself sitting next to Mary. The guest speaker was from the State Chamber of Commerce and his subject was tax reform and the certified tax reform proposals that will be on this November's general election ballot.

While the speaker was well informed on most of the current proposals, he readily admitted having little knowledge of the Voucher Plan. Mary suggested that it might be appropriate for us at Associated Newspapers to provide readers with an outline of the Voucher Plan's main points.

OK Mary, here it is.

"This is a class war, the people versus bureaucracy . . . and the people are going to win".

That quote from Robert J. Lytle, author of the 1975 book titled 'Liberty Schools, A parent's Voucher Plan, indicates at a glance the philosophy of the man who is the chief architect of the Voucher Plan.

Lytle is a father of ten children, all educated in the public schools. He is the owner of a building products manufacturing company and the Structures Publishing Company.

He long ago embraced the now popular concept of eliminating the property tax as the primary funding source for public education. And it was during his efforts to develop a plan to meet that goal that today's Voucher Plan was born.

The stated goal of the Plan is to cut property taxes on homes and other real estate by 65-percent, that being the amount of property tax earmarked for local school systems. Taxes from other sources would provide the funds for operation of the schools, with the state legislature making the final decision on where those funds would be found.

The Plan would require that funds for the operation of public schools be distributed to parents in the form of vouchers, for use at a school of their choice.

According to Lytle, this plan would then relieve educators of concerns about millage money, thereby allowing those educators to concentrate on educating children. Aside affect would be accountability for schools to parents.

In a nut-shell, this is what the voucher plan would do: A family would receive a voucher for each child. The parents could then select any school of their choice for the redemption of the voucher for that year's education of their child. A parent living in Canton Township, for example, who felt that the school system there was sub-standard, could simply elect to send their children to the Plymouth, Westland, Livonia, or any other school system they chose.

The voucher presented to the school would represent the actual payment to the school of state funds allocated for the education of the child.

It would then follow that schools providing less than acceptable education programs would be bypassed by concerned parents. Those schools, if they chose to survive, would be forced to improve programs and standards to attract the voucher-bearing children, thereby creating competition for students by schools.

Authors of the plan feel that competition would be the key to improving school systems.

Because parents anywhere, could select the school their children would attend, supporters of the Voucher Plan feel, the need for busing of students to achieve racial quotas would be eliminated.

Additionally, teacher strikes which disrupt the learning process at local schools would be reduced. Any school with a reputation of closing down to settle strikes, would be a poor choice for voucher bearing children wanting uninterrupted education.

Local control of education would be continued under the Voucher Plan, with school boards operating much as they do today. Children residing within a school district would have priority to that district's schools, and if they chose, local school boards could refuse to accept out-of-district students. But no restriction on local children leaving the district would be allowed.

All transportation for the voucher-bearing children would be provided by the existing Intermediate School District, who would be responsible for that service.

While it is impossible, within this space, to condense the entire 65-page manual on the Voucher Plan, I have covered the main points.

Anyone interested in further information on the Voucher Plan should call:

Dalley commends Ameen's coverage

Editor:

Yesterday our voters approved, on the third attempt, a 10 mill operating renewal. The renewal is first and foremost a victory for the youngsters of this district, but there are others who share in that success. I wish to commend and thank your Bob Ameen for the careful and timely coverage he provided.

In my association with him I have found him to be a man of his word, with a genuine concern for the ac-

In my nine years with the school district I cannot recall anyone who has covered us as well.

On the Brighter Side

'How's your love life?'

By JIM BRADLEY

I think I've reached "middle age" but I'm not sure. No one has defined just exactly when it starts and when it ends. But I know I'm close.

I just had a birthday Saturday, Sept. 16, and I hate to be reminded that old age is creeping over me. Each candle on the cake seemed to be singing, "You're getting older!"

With each flicker of the flames I saw my life reflected before me. I didn't see my entire life flash before me, because that would have taken too long. But enough memories flooded my mind to let me know that I've lived this globe for quite some time.

You realize that middle age is a dangerous time, don't you? That's when married men seek to regain their virility—or at least be reminded they never lost it.

A glance at your Funk and Wagnalls reveals that virility means: manly vigor, masterful, forceful, energetic and vigorous. I don't recall losing those characteristics. (If I did, I don't remember them dropping off—or in what year.)

Maybe I never had them.

All I know is I need some reassurance. I've reached that stage. All my life I've never received any respect and it's all catching up with me. And now this latest birthday seems like a reminder that the Grim Reaper is lurking around the corner, impatiently biding his time.

They say Old Age is when you have one foot in the grave and the other on a banana peel. Well, what is it called when you have both feet on banana peels? That's where I am now.

I've been married for almost a quarter of a century and I need some confidence-building words of comfort. But I guess it's always been that way.

I let Casper Milquetoast intimidate me. Little Lord Fauntleroy kicked dirt on me at the beach and I was afraid to retaliate. Even Rodney Dangerfield gives me "no respect".

So, it's understandable I'm looking for kind words. With that in mind, I took my wife out to Bob Evans for some of their well-known sausage, biscuits and gravy.

While we were there, Pansy asked me why I was so deep in thought. "I have another birthday coming up and I don't know whether I've reached middle age—you know, the time in life when you need reassurance," I said, staring off in space.

"You don't look any worse than you ever did," she reassured me, urging me to ignore the white hairs and wrinkles that have attacked my body lately.

Then I found what I had been looking for. A black-haired attractive young woman entered the restaurant wearing a colored T-shirt with printing on it. Now, I know that you can read just about anything on T-shirts nowadays. But I found comfort in the words written on her T-shirt.

"GENTLE, REASSURING HUG—25 CENTS". (Honest, that's what it said.)

My wife didn't see the pretty young woman walk in and as I fumbled for change in my pocket, Pansy asked me what in the world I was doing. "Read that offer," I said, gesturing toward the inviting sign.

"Do you really think she means it?" I asked, letting my sausage, biscuits and gravy get cold. I sized up the muscular guy sitting with her and decided not to take her offer. Besides, I couldn't find a quarter in my pocket.

We finished and got up to leave. As we strolled toward the cash register, I noticed a young boy with lettering on his white T-shirt. "How's Your Love Life?" his shirt said.

Just when I was feeling better, he would have to ask that question and doubts again filled my mind. "Honey, you don't think I'm slowing down do you?" I asked Pansy.

"No, you're definitely not slowing down," she reassured me. Then she added, "You have never gone fast enough at anything in your life to be able to slow down."

As we prepared to go to bed that night, I asked Pansy for a little sign of reassurance, thinking back to the lettering on the young lady's shirt. Pansy shook my hand, rolled over and went to sleep.

"You can't stand too much excitement at your age," she said over her shoulder. Oh well, they say you're only as old as you feel. (I wonder how Methuselah felt?)

Health Beat

The caprice of nature

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

This story is true. It happened in a state a few hundred miles West and South of Michigan.

It's not a 'they all lived happily everafter' story. It represents the ultimate tragedy which can befall one who, through severe depression, becomes a victim of the unspeakable: suicide.

The main character in this chronicle was a gentleman in his late 50's. He was successful farmer; one who earned his daily bread through a combination of hard physical labor and intelligent thinking.

His only real enemy was the caprice of Nature. He was brought into the psychiatric unit of a large county hospital. There had been no rain for weeks, and his crops were expiring in the vast now-turned-brown fields.

His wife of 32 years was in the same hospital, a terminal cancer patient fast approaching death. A 24-year-old son had been killed in Vietnam. Two other sons, ages 29 and 30, had long since left the huge farm and taken jobs in a nearby city.

Hired hands now helped him operate his farm. But this year, there was no farm to operate. He knew that he'd have to go to the bank to seek a loan to tide him through the long winter; farming is a risky business.

When he was brought to the hospital, he was almost catatonic—he was in a state of deep depression and was barely responsive to sights or sounds.

His two living children didn't have the time to visit. The depression deepened.

As in all psychiatric units, great care is taken to ensure that the patient is not allowed access to anything which might be used to harm him.

Mirrors, for instance, are highly polished metal, and not glass which could be broken and used for suicide attempts. The draw strings on the paper-weight drapes are too weak to support a body. No matches are allowed, and you will find no cutlery or drinking glasses.

One unfortunate mistake was made. More about that later.

The farmer would sometimes sit and stare out the window. Bright sunshine and brown lawns. No rain in sight.

At times he seemed to respond to the therapy; at other times, he'd lapse into a self-protective world of silence.

In his times of lucidity, he gave no indication that he was contemplating self destruction. All he seemed to be thinking about was the drought, his wife whom he wanted to see one more time as a vibrant woman, and he wanted to see his sons and his grandchildren.

The unfortunate mistake. When he checked into the hospital, he brought with him some clothing in a suitcase. Among the other things in the suitcase was a flimsy — so it seemed — wire clothes hanger.

He took the hanger, fashioned a noose, looped the noose around his head and then hanged himself from the too-strong metal rod used to support the shower curtain.

It was about 2:30 p.m. when a staff nurse received a call from one of his sons. The son had finally found the time to visit his father. The nurse told the son to be at the hospital at 3:30. She was happy as she left her station and walked to the farmer's room. She found the farmer dead.

A house physician was called. By the time he reached the room, the nurse and an orderly had moved the farmer onto the bed. It was dark in the room.

The house physician raced into the room, turned on the overhead lights, and began to work. It was too late.

Then they all noticed that it was necessary to turn on the lights.

The nurse went to the window and pulled the blinds. It was very dark in the room because it was pouring rain outside!

Reflections

'Pispalians can go to heaven!'

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Art Linkletter was always my favorite radio personality during those long ironing sieges that were a part of the joy of motherhood.

I used to collapse over the ironing board when some little kid would tell Linkletter things about his family that would have been left better unsaid, and when the program moved from radio to TV, my ironing board went from laundry room to living room, so that I wouldn't miss anything.

The other evening I was reading an article by Linkletter about how funny those kids had been, and in the article he told of how one little kid said he wanted to be a preacher when he grew up, just like his daddy.

Linkletter asked him what his dad did all day, and the little one said, "He talks Christians into becoming Methodists."

After I had wiped the laughing tears from my eyes I leaned back on my pillow and remembered another little kid, a little kid who came running in one day hollering, "Mom, Mom, I don't have to be Catholic, do I? I can be a 'pispalian, can't I?"

Wiping off the peanut butter from around his mouth, I sat him up on the table and said, "Sure you can be a 'pispalian. Who said you had to be Catholic?"

"Jimmy said I had to be Catholic or I couldn't go to heaven," and he took an apple out of the bowl and began to chomp on it.

"Oh sure, you'll get to heaven," I told him, taking the apple away to wash off the germs. "God loves little boys."

Wrapping his grin around his clean apple he jumped off the table and rejoined his friend.

"Pispalians can, too, go to heaven," he said as they jumped off the porch and went out to find something else to fight about.

The next morning while he was slurping the syrup while hunting for his pancake, he said, "I dreamed I went to heaven last night."

Before I could ask him to tell us about it, he told us.

"I dreamed God put down a big ladder and said, 'Hey, Brother, come on up here.' So I climbed and I climbed until I got up to the rim and God put his hand down and pulled me the rest of the way up."

"How do you like it, Brother," he said, and I told him I liked it fine. And he showed me around, and then he said I'd better go back home cause he could hear my mom calling me. So I climbed back down the ladder, and I'm here."

"Well, what did you learn in heaven?" I asked him.

He swirled his pancake around in the syrup, and then picked up the bottle and poured another plateful. The pancake and the syrup squished out of his mouth. Wiping his chin on the corner of the tablecloth he looked up at me.

"Huh?" he said.

"What did you learn in heaven?" I asked.

"I learnt God ain't Catholic," he said.

"How'd you learn that?" I asked.

"Cause he didn't have no black robe on."

Health assigned to Altus Air Force Base

Airman George Heath Jr., the son of Mrs. Mavis E. Akers of Colbert, Romulus, and George W. Heath Sr. of Martinsville Road, Belleville, has been assigned to Altus Air Force Base, Okla., for duty in the U.S. Air Force transportation field.

The airman, who recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., studied the Air Force mission, customs and organization and received specialized instruction in human relations.

Completion of that training earned him individual credits towards an associate of applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Heath is a 1978 graduate of Romulus High School. Also in the armed forces: Navy Seaman Recruit Thomas G.

Conservationists mark Hunting, Fishing Day

Sportsmen's clubs throughout Michigan will lead this state's observance of National Hunting and Fishing Day on Saturday.

Exhibits of hunting and fishing activities will be set up in at least 16 cities to acquaint the public with contributions made by sportsmen to the cause of conservation.

For the seventh year in a row, the observance will be coordinated in this state by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

Dennis Fijalkowski, MUCC state field representative, said Detroit Tigers pitcher Dave Rozema will serve as honorary state chairman for National Hunting and Fishing Day. The 22-year old hurler, a graduate of Grand Rapids Central High School, is an active sportsman who enjoys sportsfishing and hunting for deer, pheasants, ruffed grouse, rabbits and squirrels. Rozema, who posted 15 victories for the Tigers in his rookie year in 1976, had the lowest earned run average (1.56) in Tigers AA history while pitching for the Montgomery, Ala. club.

The honorary national chairman for the observance is professional golfer Tom Weiskopf, who also is an avid hunter and fisherman. National Hunting and Fishing Day exhibits will be set up at Eastland Shopping Center in Harper Woods, Westland Shopping Center in Westland, Small Mall in Flint, Fashion Square Mall in Saginaw, North Kent Mall in Grand Rapids, Maple Hill Mall in Kalamazoo, Westwood Mall in Jackson, Lansing Mall, Muskegon Mall, Meadowbrook Village Mall in Rochester, Brighton Mall, Cherryland Mall in Traverse City, Hillman Sportsmen's Club, Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, Adrian Mall and P & H Rod and Gun Club in Escanaba.

Bryant Jr. the son of Thomas G. Bryant Sr. of Edmund, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who

Civil Defense plan established in case of nuclear attack

If Michigan citizens were relocated in case of nuclear attack, the move could save 2.2 million lives.

Representatives from local cities learned that and other things about Civil Defense planning when they attended a Nuclear Civil Protection planning session in the Hyatt Regency Hotel Aug. 24.

There, they learned that the newest method of protecting the population is relocating people from areas of high risk to lower risk.

They heard from speakers Mitch Kozak, the Wayne County Civil Defense director; Murray Van Dale; and Thad Zale, program director for the State Police Emergency Services Division.

"The State of Michigan has 22 areas that are considered to be risk areas," they said, "targets of a direct nuclear attack. The risk encompasses two-thirds of the state's population of six million people."

However, they added, "Michigan is ideally suited for hosting population — there are 63 host counties in the state."

They suggested that local governments help to plan for such evacuation.

Developing that cooperation is the reason for the Nuclear Civil Protection meetings, they said.

Statistics were released which showed that with no Civil Defense planning at all, there would be an 80 percent fatality ratio in U.S. cities.

With some such program and "inplace protection", they estimated there could be a 40 percent survival, 60 percent fatality rating.

With relocation, however, they said that up to 87 percent of the population could be saved.

This is based on the assumption that Civil Defense authorities have 72 hours to work in before the attack.

Once launched, inter-continental ballistic missiles from Russia take 15 minutes or less to cross the North Pole and strike targets in the United States.

The national budget for Civil Defense, spokesmen said, is less than $100 million dollars.

"This averages out to be approximately 40 cents per per per year," officials said.

Since 1974, Michigan has had a total of six presidentially-declared disasters, they said.

Airman Marvin K. Howell, the brother of Robert L. Howell of Margaret Drive, Romulus, has been assigned to Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Howell now will receive specialized training in the administrative field.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of Central High School, Detroit.

Ray L. Colley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colley of Expressway, Belleville, has been promoted to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

Airman Colley, an integrated avionics component specialist, is assigned at Cannon Air Force Base, N.M., with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School.

Women's Health Clinic gives 'straight talk'

Teens who need confidential counseling on health and family planning problems can find straight talk and practical help at a recently opened clinic in Westland.

The Women's Health Clinic is located at 32633 Cherry Hill, just east of Venoy, in a small former dentist's office next to a party store.

Although the staff is still moving in furniture and setting up examining rooms, and the clinic is waiting for its outdoor sign, it is open and operating right now.

The clinic offers information on birth control, physiology and anatomy, venereal disease and any other sexuality health problem during informal rap sessions.

Trained staff offer pap tests, pelvic exams, pregnancy testing, tests for VD, treatments for other infections, and blood pressure checks.

Teens may obtain contraceptives, after discussing with the trained staff the type of birth control method best for them.

The clinic is funded with federal funds from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, through the Southeast Michigan Family Planning Project. Communities United For Action (CUFA), a private non-profit group, is the local funding agency through which the federal funds are funneled to the project.

In addition to two regular teen clinics each week, an adult clinic is held once a week. Clients are charged fees on a sliding scale based on ability to pay, making the service accessible to all, despite income or lack of it.

Staff members emphasize that all information is confidential, and no parental permission required, regardless of the age of the person. And although most tests and services are for women, the clinic hopes to expand coverage to young men as much as possible.

The program director is Donna Kasabach, a nurse practitioner who has special training over and above her registered nurse training, that allows her to do pelvic exams, pap smears for detecting cancer, and such.

She emphasized, however, that doctors are on call and regularly visit the clinic to take care of any medical problems. Although Ms. Kasabach dispenses oral contraceptives, she does not write prescriptions or insert contraceptives such as IUDs. That is done by doctors either at the clinic, or clients are referred to doctors at Wayne County General Hospital.

Ms. Kasabach does not practice medicine, and works under orders of doctors.

Working with her in the counseling and education part of the program is Liz Durany, who is the health educator. She holds small group informal rap sessions with the teens and adults who visit the clinic. She explains various birth control methods, anatomy, symptoms of venereal disease, and will be in charge of community outreach. That part of the program will be to inform teens in the area that the service is available.

The clinic is open to all teens in Wayne County, although naturally it is expected that the clientele will be generated from the Western Wayne County area.

Teens who are supplied with contraceptives are required to come back for periodic follow-up check-ups at least within three months of their first clinic visit, and after that at regular intervals, Ms. Durany explained.

And if the clinic diagnoses venereal disease, the person is referred to the Wayne County Health Department for treatment. Pregnant teens are referred to the Women's Health Services for counseling on their options, Ms. Durany explained.

The office is open each weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. However, clinic hours are held only twice a week for teens, and once a week for adults.

The clinic phone number is 729-8990.

The teen clinics are held on Tuesdays from 4 p.m. until 9 p.m., and Saturdays from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Although walk-ins are accepted at those times, it is best to call for an appointment if you can, Ms. Durany said. The adult clinic is Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

In addition to the rap sessions, pamphlets on birth control, VD, cancer, and such are on hand.

She has the facts

Liz Durany is young and easy to talk to, and she's got the answers that many teens are looking for. She's health educator at the new Women's Health Clinic for teens and adults at 32633 Cherry Hill in Westland. The clinic is funded with federal money through the Southeast Michigan Family Planning Project and Communities United For Action (CUFA). It offers health exams, including Pap smear, pelvic exams, tests for venereal disease and blood pressure, and such, and also offers birth control information and supplies. Ms. Durany does the explaining, during "rap sessions", and a nurse practitioner does the examining. — ANP photo.

Arrowsmith named interim city manager for Inkster

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

One of the most prominent men to ever serve as a city manager in Wayne County has been named interim city manager for the city of Inkster.

Wallace G. Arrowsmith, who served as chief administrator for the city of Wayne from 1949 to 1973, was unanimously named to that position by city council at a special meeting Monday night.

Inkster Treasurer Bruce Cook had been serving as acting city manager since Dave Williams resigned as city manager Aug. 1. Cook only took the job temporarily and requested city council to seek an interim man.

Council announced it would meet Monday night to interview and hire an interim city manager. Arrowsmith was the only man considered for the job and the vote was 6-0, with Mayor Pro-Tem William Daniels absent.

Arrowsmith is one of the most respected administrators in Michigan and is held in high esteem by those in this area who have observed his accomplishments.

"They contacted me a couple weeks ago and I went to an orientation session with city council where they inquired if I would be interested," Arrowsmith said.

"At first I said 'No,' but then my wife and I talked it over and I decided that I would take it since it was for just a limited time.

"There was a lot to take into consideration. I have built up a good reputation over a long number of years and I wanted to make sure that this would work out well for all concerned," said Arrowsmith, who served as the first interim city manager of Garden City from Nov., 1975 to March, 1976.

Arrowsmith was partially influenced to accept the job because Inkster is in the midst of undergoing a possible City Charter revision. The Charter Review Commission has passed Charter changes that would provide for a full-time mayor if the proposals are approved by the people in an election.

That would do away with the City Manager's position.

"I realize it's a difficult time to hire a city manager," explained Arrowsmith.

The 65-year-old Arrowsmith is well-known to several Inkster Councilmen through their connection on the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority, which Arrowsmith helped found in 1953.

The Authority is made up of the cities of Inkster, Wayne, Dearborn Heights, Garden City and Westland and Arrowsmith was one of the prime movers in getting it organized.

"Several cities got together and contributed $5,000 to retain a consultant to study the situation," he recalls. "We weren't sure at that time whether to have a landfill site or an incinerator."

At that time, Nankin Township consisted of parts of Garden City, Wayne (which became a city in 1960), the western half of Inkster (which became a city in 1964), and the remainder eventually became the city of Westland in 1966.

"It's a challenge," Arrowsmith said in assessing his new position. "I hope to accomplish some things. It's not just a caretaker's job. I've always tried to move forward and that's the way I'll continue to do."

The veteran administrator said he told Inkster City Councilmen that he wouldn't permit 'politics' to interfere with moving the city forward.

"I made it clear I'd continue to operate only as I've done for the past 25 years," explained Arrowsmith, who served as Wayne's City Manager 24 years and remained adroitly aloof from politics.

Born in Goffstown, N.H. in 1912, he came to Wayne at the age of four and has lived in Wayne for all but two of the intervening years.

He graduated from Wayne High School in 1930 and attended Michigan State Normal College

(now Eastern Michigan University) and later studied at Wayne State University and University of Michigan.

Arrowsmith, who started his duties as City Manager yesterday, was eager to get started on his new job.

"Yes, it's a new challenge and I'm ready to see what we can accomplish."

Do it yourself

More than 100 do-it-yourself clinics will be featured at the second annual Forest City Do-It-Yourself Home Show and Expo, scheduled in the Michigan Mart at the State Fairgrounds Friday through Sunday.

Actual demonstrations on projects that homeowners can complete themselves — to save energy and money and to improve the appearance and condition of their homes — will include subjects from laying floor tile to ceiling tile, painting, furniture refinishing and assembling kitchen cabinets and counter tops, to electrical and plumbing installation.

Clinics will be held continuously throughout the show in three separate classroom areas.

More than 100 manufacturers will display their products and demonstrate the latest do-it-yourself techniques during the three-day show. Homeowners will have the opportunity to come to one completely unique event and see many home improvement ideas they can perform themselves.

The "show no homeowner can afford to miss" drew more than 100,000 visitors last year. Show hours are 12 noon to 10 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and 12 noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The Bible has the answer

The following column has been compiled by The Rev. Ronald Ely, Pastor of the Zion Missionary Church of Belleville. Those readers with questions for the pastor can direct their queries to him at the Zion Missionary Church, 89 Edgemont, Belleville 48111.

Dear Pastor Ely,

I get so little out of studying the Bible. Could you tell me how I can get to understand it better? To me it is for Preachers only.

Norma,
Belleville

Dear Norma,

The Bible gives the answer. The Bible must interpret itself. "Be diligent to present yourself approved to God as a workman who does not need to be ashamed, handling accurately the word of truth." II, Timothy 2:15.

We are to study prayerfully and receive the Bible as the voice of God to us personally. "My sheep here my voice, and I know them, and they follow me," John 10:27.

To sheep that Jesus speaks of here, are those of us who have asked Jesus to forgive us, and to come into our hearts. To those of us then that are truly born again, God has sent His Spirit.

Spiritual things are Spirit revealed and taught. "But God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit; for the Spirit searcheth all things, yes, the deep things of God." I Corinthians 2:10.

We can only understand the Bible the right way - if we are saved... "The Holy Spirit teacheth; comparing Spiritual things with Spiritual." I Co. 2:13.

The Unsaved or... "the Natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." I Co. 2:14.

Inkster dedicated its new $2 million Recreation Complex on Middlebelt Road Thursday evening with more than 400 attending the ceremonies. No dedication is official without it's ribbon-cutting ceremony. Inkster Mayor Terrel LeCesne (center) is joined by Walter Durant, chairman of the Inkster Building Authority, (right) and John Beers, representative of the Department of Natural Resources in wielding the scissors. A $300,000 grant from the DNR and bonds sold by the authority made the sports center possible. (More photos on Page A-3.) — ANP photo.

Two years in the making

Inkster unveils rec complex

It took two years but it was worth it. That's the amount of time it took to complete Inkster's new $2-million Recreation Complex and the 400 persons who attended Thursday night's dedication were awed by the beauty of the structure.

Inkster Mayor Terrel LeCesne, as the city's host, was master of ceremonies to the large throng of people which included dignitaries on the state, county and local levels.

In addition to members of City Council, representatives from all other city commissions and groups were honored on the occasion by LeCesne.

Especially noted was the Inkster Building Authority, through which the city raised $1.5-million to make the recreation building possible.

Seated on the platform with City Council members were members of the Building Authority, which included Chairman Walter H. Durant, Hersey Bryant, Robert W. Pauls, Hogan Bonam, Richard LaChance, Betty G. Miller and former City Manager David S. Williams.

Also on the dias was State Sen. David S. Plawewski (D-12th District); State Rep. William Keith (D-33rd Dist.) and Mrs. Barbara Coye, deputy state representative for U.S. Senator Donald Riegle.

Mrs. Coye brought a few appropriate remarks and read a letter of greetings from Riegle. She filled in for James Sharp, another Riegle aide, who was scheduled to speak but could not be present for the occasion.

Cutting the ribbon to officially open the ceremonies were Mayor LeCesne, Walter Durant, chairman of the Inkster Building Authority, and James R. Beers, a representative of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) which gave a $300,000 grant to Inkster toward building the Recreation Complex.

VFW Post 9041, under direction of Commander Lonnie Parham, then took charge of the flag presentation.

The crowd gathered in the gymnasium for the dedication program and were later given guided tours of the building.

"On behalf of the citizens of Inkster, I gratefully accept these keys," acknowledged LeCesne from the platform after being presented with the keys to the Recreation Complex by Durant.

"Recreation is not an isolated part but is an integral part of our life. Recreation builds our minds and bodies in more ways than we realize," the mayor told the audience of approximately 400.

LeCesne mentioned the "Quality of Life Award", a national honor, received by the Inkster Parks and Recreation Dept. in 1976. He also said he hoped the proposed 18-hole golf course and tennis courts could be erected next to the Recreation Complex as soon as possible.

LeCesne named a long list of people who served on various commissions and praised them for their hard work in getting the Recreation Complex built.

Especially honored were four prominent men who have served Inkster in an elected capacity. Each had a room dedicated in his honor.

The swimming pool was named after John P. Wagner, the first mayor of Inkster. The multi-purpose room was dedicated to Leon S. Carroll, a councilman for 13 years.

Leonard A. Dakiewicz had the lounge and meeting room named in Advisory panel established on ban of tandem tankers

The second step in the process to remove double-bottom tankers from Michigan streets and highways has begun with the formation of a special advisory committee by Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

According to Austin, the committee will help the Secretary of State's Office implement the phase-out program recently enacted by the legislature because of a series of fatal accidents involving the tanker trucks. Public Act 387 of 1978 authorizes the Department of State to implement a loan program to provide funds to petroleum companies for the purchase of replacement vehicles.

"The legislature has asked my office to develop a program to help remove double-bottom tankers from our roads. I intend to see that the job is done so that our roads and highways will be safer. However, we also want to make certain that Michigan motorists continue to receive an adequate supply of gasoline," Austin said.

In requiring the elimination of the tankers, the legislature provided for loans to certain companies affected by the ban. The state loans will be made at an annual interest rate of 4 percent and will not exceed a period of five years.

The advisory committee members will include Jack McNamara of the Michigan Trucking Association, Jack Landstrom of Wagoner Transportation Co., Dow Mitchell of the D. M. Mitchell Transport Co. William House of Rex Transportation, Thomas G. Cordell of the Michigan Petroleum Association and James Kelley of the Teamsters.

Austin also has asked that representatives of the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal's Division, the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Highway Safety Institute of the University of Michigan assist his office in development of the phase-out program.

Taylor parents seek news of run-away daughter, 15

By CONNIE MILFORD
AND Staff Writer

William and Mary Barton of Taylor desperately need to hear from their daughter.

Fifteen-year-old Karen Marie Barton recently ran away from her sister's home in Brownstown Township. Before that she ran away from her parents' home about four months ago, and has not returned since.

with a bunch of kids in an old red Chevy," her mother said. "She left a note saying she was afraid she would be stopped if she waited until her sister came home."

Karen was to have a preliminary hearing in Probate Court July 3 but her mother said that all charges have since dropped, and the girl need not be afraid of being placed in a juvenile home.

"We all feel pretty bad about this situation," Mrs. Barton said. "Her father has become sick over it, and her best girlfriend, Marianne Cook, is just worried sick about her."

She said she understood that her daughter might be afraid of being punished, if she came back home, but she urged her to at least telephone.

"Karen can call any of us — her parents, or her sister Gloria, or Marianne, just so we can talk. We just want to talk about her problems with her, that's all."

The girl apparently left home because of a boy, and her mother thinks she wants to stay away from home for another year, so she can come of age to marry him.

Karen's last letter was sent to the boy's mother, and postmarked from Romulus, she said.

"Our main concern right now is that she finishes her education," Mrs. Barton said. "She dropped out of Taylor Center High when she ran away the first time. We would like her just to enroll in school wherever she's at, so she can complete her high school education."

She said again that they are very anxious to hear from their daughter, and that her Aunt Dottie and Uncle Charlie have come from Kansas to visit and would like to hear from her, too.

"We know she might be afraid," her mother said, "But we want to say that she doesn't need to be afraid. All we want to do is hear from her."

Karen Barton was described by her mother as having "the last time I saw her," as being about five-foot-five, with shoulder length dark brown hair, blue eyes, having slight scar under her chin and weighing about 120 pounds. She also had a small light brown scar or mole under her right eye.

And both her friends and family hope she will stop running and tell them she's all right.

Bosses sought for JA

Southeastern Michigan high school students will have the opportunity to start and operate their own miniature businesses this fall when the Junior Achievement Program gets underway the week of Oct. 16.

More than 200 volunteers from business and industry will visit some 180 high schools during September and October to sign students up for the new JA Program Year.

Each fall thousands of teen-agers run their own companies at the JA centers located throughout the seven county area of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe and St. Clair. JA companies meet one evening per week, Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m. The program runs from October through April.

In addition to learning money management, organizational and leadership skills and effective decision-making processes, young people in JA gain valuable business experience which proves most helpful in future job situations. Contests, awards, scholarships and numerous social activities are another part of JA.

Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan Inc. is a non-profit organization supported by more than 6,000 Michigan businesses, making it the largest JA Program in the world.

Involves one school

W-W faces racial imbalance charges

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools has some explaining to do. The State Department of Education has named Wayne-Westland as one of 28 districts statewide that is racially imbalanced. It has given Wayne-Westland and the other districts 90 days to come up with a plan to remedy that situation. The plan, or lack of it, will then be turned over to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, which may choose to take action against districts unwilling to voluntarily comply with a desegregation plan. In Wayne-Westland, the racial imbalance is present in only one elementary school. Vandenburg

School in Wayne has been identified as being "racially impacted" because 46 percent of the student population is non-white, and most of those students are black. However, in the district as a whole, there is only 2 percent minority population. According to assistant state superintendent John Dobbs, the State Board of Education in June 1977, adopted a policy of guidelines for providing integration within school districts. The board has criteria for determining if a district should be labeled racially impacted. First, the district determines its minority percentage district-wide. If any one school differs from that percentage by more than 15 percent, it is racially imbalanced, and therefore defines the whole district as imbalanced, Dobbs said. The 15 percent variance is given to provide for some leeway because of housing patterns or whatever. But, in the case of Vandenburg School, the school is out of sync with the rest of the district by some 30 percent, even given the variance allowed. If a district can justify it—either by showing that the school has an unusually high academic achievement, or that a special program such as a bilingual program causes the imbalance—the state board will give it an exception. But the State Department of Education will not accept housing patterns as an excuse, Dobbs said.

And that is, in fact, the justification given by Dyer when asked about the ethnic imbalance. He said a low income housing project of townhouses, built practically across the street from the school in 1971 has caused the imbalance. Many of the residents of the complex are black, and go to that school. Dyer calls this "de facto segregation" because the school balance came about as a result of housing construction not under the control of the district. It would be different if the segregation was "de jure," meaning that it was accomplished by some sort of manipulation of school attendance boundaries, Dyer said. Although school records of racial make-up go back only two years, district officials and the Vandenburg School Principal Clara Sapiano said they believe the racial imbalance to have grown most substantially in the past five years. The rent-subsidized housing was built in 1971. During the first few years after that, the minority population at the school went up slowly, then began to increase by up to 10 percent per year after that, said Mrs. Sapiano. Dyer pointed out that the attendance boundaries at Vandenburg have not changed in at least the past 10 years. The desegregation guidelines of the State Department of Education are voluntary, Dyer said. Dobbs verified that they are not legally binding, but he said the districts are being asked for a voluntary plan now. They may choose to say no, and the education department is not going to enforce the policy. But the answers from the 28 districts will be turned over to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, which may very well choose to enforce the issue. Dyer said the issue has been turned over to attorneys for a recommendation.

Open house Sunday fetes Howards on silver year

A party this Sunday at their children's home will help Reid and Wynia (traylor) Howard celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The couple, who live on Bemis Road in Belleville, exchange their "I do's" on Sept. 24, 1953, in Greenup, Ky. The party Sunday will be from 1 to 4 p.m. at the home of Glenn and Gail Howard, 15106 Harrison Road, Romulus. The Howards also have another son, Donald, and two grandchildren — Jill, 2, and Jayson, 2½. Both employed, he works at GM's Hydra-matic Division at Willow Run. Mrs. Howard is an employee of the Whell Restaurant in Wayne. Also to celebrate their anniversary, the couple traveled to Florida to visit Mrs. Howard's sisters and to see Disney World. Howard also had his 25-year pin from Hydra-Matic concerted into a ring. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to join with the Howards Sunday to help celebrate their 25th year of married life.

Tiny Metropolitan Chapter March of Dimes representative Debbie Ott takes a minute out to pose with Super Ride chairman Tiger Ron LeFlore at the Super Ride '78 Kick-Off held at the Vernors Bottling Plant recently. Four-year old Debbie, born with Spina Bifida (open spine), was helping LeFlore promote the chapter's eighth annual bike-a-thon. Vernors along with WDRQ radio are co-sponsors for the event. Super Ride '78 will include five rides on three days this year. — Sept. 30 at Stony Creek and Grosse Ile, Oct. 1 at Belle Isle and Oakland University and Oct. 14 on Hines Drive in the park. To register call 863-3000, or pick up sponsor forms at participating Elias Brothers Restaurants. This year Super Ride '78 has gone metric, and riders will circle an off-road course of 75 kilometers.

Battle brews with council

Inkster Charter Commission sues to get budget

Inkster Charter Commission will have to wait a little longer to know if it will get the amount of money it requested from the city.

The Commission, which was elected by the public in 1976 to review the City Charter, filed a proposed budget of $54,000 with the city for its work this fiscal year.

City Council approved a budget of only $4,500 and the Charter Commission subsequently has taken its case to court to get its budget.

The case will be heard in Detroit Circuit Court next Thursday, Sept. 21, by Judge Roland Ozark.

According to the commission's attorney, Adam Dadou, "There will likely be an evidentiary hearing after this one."

The commission is asking the court to order the City Council to pay three things: its funding, separate bank account and compensation for the commission members.

Most observers strongly doubt that the court will order the city to pay anything but rather leave it up to the elected officials to conduct their own business.

There has been constant bickering between City Council and many Charter Commission members for the past six months. The main reason is because the majority of commissioners voted recently to change the charter to have a full-time mayor government and the City Council wants to retain the City Manager type set-up.

One Commissioner doesn't believe there has been a hassle between the two groups. "What are all these stories I'm reading in the paper about constant bickering between council and the Charter Commission?" he asked.

He contended there was no continuing argument between the two elected groups. However, individuals from council and the commission have contacted the Ledger-Star from time to time to tell of the discord between factions of both parties.

Also, those attending City Council meetings and Charter Commission sessions can hear discussion and debate between individuals of the involved groups.

Everyone agrees on one main thing. "Please don't lump the Charter Commissioners all into one group," said one official. "Each person is different and everyone has their own views."

Some of the Charter Commissioners contend that their budget is "not really $54,000 because it was set a little high because we knew City Council would cut it drastically."

Another bone of contention is the fact that some individuals on the Charter Commission, elected by the people, feel it is its own "boss" and cannot be dictated to by City Council.

Animal
surveyed

The topic of animal behavior will be discussed during a 1½-hour long program entitled "Acting Like An Animal" to be held at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sept. 30 at 9 a.m.

The things we see animals doing often appear to stem from intelligent thought. But when we study animal behavior, we soon realize that wild creatures are basically controlled by what we call instincts. This program will look at some of the more familiar animals found around the nature center and will cover how certain behaviors have developed and how they help the animals survive.

This program is offered to families and individuals by advance registration. Vehicle entry permits are required.

For information or registration contact the nature center of Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Auto lemon law doesn't give 'blanket' protection

By LINDA JOY
Executive Director
Michigan Consumers Council

The new auto lemon law will not solve all consumer headaches with defective cars, but it does provide additional protection for consumers who finance their cars through a dealership.

When a consumer buys a car on an installment contract from a dealer, the dealership usually sells the contract to a financial institution so the dealer can have immediate access to the money for the car. Consequently, the consumer actually is paying a third-party — the financial institution — for the automobile.

Problems arise when the car turns out to be a lemon — when it continually breaks down and the dealer can't, or won't, repair it to the consumer's satisfaction. Before the new law, the consumer generally was forced to continue to pay for the car having no recourse insofar as the third-party financial institution was concerned.

Under the new auto lemon law, the financial institution is subject to the same claims and defenses in court that a consumer may raise, if the dealer were still holding the contract.

In other words, if a consumer stops making payments on a car loan because the car is defective and the financial institution sues to collect back payments, then the consumer has some leverage in court.

If the financial institution sues, the car owner can explain to the judge that payments were being withheld because the car didn't measure up to the terms of the dealer's agreement. For example, the dealer wasn't honoring the warranty. Before this, a judge could refuse to consider the consumer's reasons for withholding payments.

Confusion about the new law arises because many people are under the impression that in order to have something repossessed, the holder of the contract must first go to court. That is true, if the repossession would breach the peace; consequently, for most consumer items a court order is used. But for cars it's possible to hot wire or tow them from the street or parking lot without breaching the peace. This is called 'self-help' repossession where, quite simply, the company helps itself to the consumer's car.

Before taking the extreme step of withholding payments, consumers should complain to the manager or owner of the dealership. Often the problem can be solved at this point because most businesses want to keep their customers satisfied.

For a free brochure on how to complain effectively, write the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing 48933.

If talking to the management doesn't work, consumers should call the state's Bureau of Automotive Regulation toll-free at 1-800-292-4204. Consumers who live in Wayne, Oakland or Macomb counties should call 357-5108.

'Otello' opens
56's 'Live from Met'

"Otello," Verdi's masterpiece of wrath and love, will open the new season of "Live From the Met" Monday at 8 p.m. on Channel 56. The Metropolitan Opera's "Live From the Met" series won a Peabody Award in its first season last year.

Boating classes offered

The Ann Arbor Power Squadron will offer a free course in boating safety and small boat handling, beginning tonight at Pioneer High School in Ann Arbor.

The first class and registration will start at 7:30 p.m. in the west cafeteria (C 117) of the high school.

The course is open to both boys and girls 12 years and older. Ownership of a boat is not a requirement.

The course will run for 12 weeks, two hours per week, and will meet every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. There will be a final examination at the end of the course.

For further information call the course chairman, Mel Dabich, at 668-8677.

Inspired by Shakespeare's tragedy, Verdi's "Otello" is set in Cyprus around the 16th century. It is the dramatic story of a Moorish general caught between his love for his wife and the uncontrollable jealous rage that consumes him.

His ensign, Iago, plots his own advancement by preying on Otello's suspicion of his wife, the allegedly unfaithful Desdemona. Otello, easily conquered by Iago's evil fabrication, strangles Desdemona, then executes himself upon learning of Iago's treachery.

Francis Robinson, the Met's tour director, will host the series. The television broadcasts also will feature special intermission entertainment prepared for the home viewer. All Italian-language performances will be telecast with English subtitles.

MRS. J. CHRISTOPHER LORENTSON

Newlyweds travel to Florida following Sept. 16 wedding

Oakhill Presbyterian Church in Grand Rapids was the setting September 16 for the afternoon ceremony which united Dawn Marie Butterfield and Dr. J. Christopher Lorentson in holy matrimony. Double ring vows were pledged before The Rev. James Rea at three o'clock between the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Butterfield of 3193 Haberland Dr., Bay City, and the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lennert Lorentson of 44407 Harmony Lane, Belleville.

Altar appointments included pink pomp mums interspersed with white starflowers and ivy, tall candelabras and a unity candle entwined with green ivy.

Piano music for the occasion, "Austrian Hymn" by J. Haydn, was played as the entrance song by Ann Minnema. Mark Proulx and Susan Proulx, guitar soloists, played "Annie's Song" and "The Wedding Song", respectively.

For her wedding day the bride selected a qiana gown designed with a controlled skirt falling from a little lifted bodice and extending to a chapel train. Venice lace appliques etched the Queen Anne neckline and also accented the shoulders and clear bishop sleeves.

Completing her bridal finery was a lace-edged cathedral veil with cascades of lace secured to a little Juliet cap. Her bouquet was comprised of cascading bridal pink roses, English ivy and white satin streamers.

For her role as honor attendant, Carol McKenzie of Bay City donned a pale blue qiana frock fashioned in the empire mode with a softly draped cowl neckline and full pleated skirt.

Bridesmaids in soft shades of rose and sea spray were Darcel Butterfield of Bay City and Chris Holm of Ann Arbor. Each of the trio pinned a small sprig of baby's breath and a miniature mum to match her dress in her hair and held a nosegay of bridal pink roses, white and mint miniature mums and blue strawflowers.

Robert Zaborowski of Belleville was asked to be best man. Groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother, David Lorentson of Fairbanks, Alaska, and Dr. David Verdier of Charleston, S.C.

Following a reception for some 200 guests at the President Motor Inn of Grand Rapids, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon tour of Florida with a visit to Disney World. On their return they will take up residence at 347 Bostwick N.E., No. 305, Grand Rapids.

Power failure cancels tour; Home Arts sees film instead

When the Sept. 11 thunder storms knocked out the power at the Lemontree Sports Illustrated Racquetball Club where the Home Arts Club was to be taken on a tour, some fast improvising had to be done by members of the program committee.

Forming a telephone brigade, the group got the message across to most clubsters to forego the previous plans and meet instead in the home economics room at North Junior High School.

The new club president, Betty Gott, welcomed the group for the new season. Agnes Elliott, corresponding secretary, took the roll with some 20 present along with three guests: Sandi Swartz, Pam Brentke and Gerry Kelly.

Other new members of the executive board include Marilyn Prill, vice-president; Elsie Ostrowski, treasurer, and Toni Schwartz, recording secretary.

Mary Kosin, who is heading this year's program committee, gave a brief run-down on upcoming meeting plans with the traditional smorgasbord plus a speaker set for Oct. 9 at 6:30 p.m. Members are asked to bring any dish of their choice — entree, salad, vegetable, dessert, etc. — plus their own table service. Guests are welcome to attend.

For November, a holiday craft will be on the calendar and for December the annual Christmas party at the home of the president. The new year will highlight "The Emerging Woman" and will center on subjects of interest to today's "new woman."

Following adjournment Avis White, who is state chairman for the General Federation of Women's Club's 1978-79 club theme, "Free Enterprise", presented a color film. It dealt with the Jeopardy free enterprise is facing due to apathy and over-reliance on government groups plus the danger it poses to our economy.

The color film featured Richard DeVos, Amway executive, and a firm advocate of democracy (capitalism) over socialism. Muriel Wolfe served as projectionist.

The evening concluded over assorted bar cakes, nuts, tea and coffee served from a table centered with a soup tureen of colorful zinnias on a gold cloth. Charlotte Budd, Mildred Baker and Vera Nolf were September hostesses.

Any woman, 18 and over, interested in meeting new people, re-acquainting with old friends and sharing programs attuned to today's woman, is welcome to attend meetings of the Home Arts Club. The second Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. is the time assigned to the group which meets in the home economics room of North Junior High School. Potential members may contact the club president at 697-5901 or the program chairman at 697-4120 for further information.

Approximately 30 members of the Van Buren September Days Senior Citizen Center attended a day at the races at the DRC in Livonia on Monday, Aug. 28. Following a noonday buffet dinner, the group spent the afternoon enjoying the races and trying their luck at outguessing the odds, particularly on the third race which was named for the September Days Senior Citizens.

The Van Buren Township group also visited the main office of the Security Bank and Trust Company on Trenton Road in Southgate on Thursday, Aug. 31. Conducting a tour of the bank was Hugh Mullen who described its facilities, emphasizing those services of particular benefit to senior citizens. A luncheon was also included in the outing.

A special celebration at noon on Tuesday, Sept. 19 marked the birthdays of all September Days

Senior Citizens born in the month of September. The noonday luncheon preceded the regular monthly membership meeting held at Van Buren Township Hall on Tyler Road.

The Rev. Walter Burke, chaplain of Wayne County General Hospital, was guest speaker and held a question and answer period on "The Right to Die" at the first fall meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW).

The group met Sept. 11 at Faith United Methodist Church of Denton with five representatives from the Ypsilanti BPW Club, which sponsored the local group, and other guests and members who enjoyed the 31st birthday celebration of the Belleville BPW.

Announcement of the club's "Woman of the Year" will be made at the Oct. 2 meeting when William Joiner, Wayne County Commissioner, will speak. In the interim, club members will take part in a District XV workshop Sept. 28; a state board meeting Sept. 23 and 24 at the Dearborn Hyatt Regency; the traditional fall blood bank Oct. 23; and make plans for National Business Women's Week set for Oct. 15-21.

Guests and prospective members are welcome to attend club meetings by making reservations with members or calling membership chairman, Gwen Ashe, at 699-5030.

Quotes worth quoting...

"For every politician who changes his mind because he sees the light, 10 change theirs because they feel the heat."

Sydney J. Harris said it.

St. Paul's scene of summer vows

Candlelight set the mood for the recent summer wedding of Susan Helen Kautz and James Douglas Henrikowski who exchanged nuptial vows before Pastor Paul Richert at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston.

Some 200 relatives and friends witnessed the six o'clock rite which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kautz of 29040 Lorman Ave., Romulus, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henrikowski of 9439 Barry, Romulus.

Four sprays of white gladiolas, yellow and white fugi mums and yellow baby mums graced the altar as the bride approached her waiting bridegroom on the arm of her father.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Ruth Richert who accompanied her daughter, Ruth Richert, as she sang "Evergreen", "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

"The bride appeared in a floor-length dress of Chantilly lace with a sprinkling of sequins on the sweetheart neckline. Long fitted sleeves and a 5-tiered bouffant skirt ending in a cathedral train were other styling details on the traditional white gown.

She chose a double tier illusion veil which drifted to fingertip length from a little Chantilly lace cap sparkling with sequins and carried cascading white roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Mary Jankowski of Romulus, donned a pale blue qiana frock designed in the A-line mode with a "V" neckline on the calico print bodice and a filmy chiffon cape jacket to complete her outfit. She wore silk yellow roses in her hair and held a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and gladiolas centered with yellow roses.

The trio of bridesmaids, Teresa

(Allred) Thompson of Lincoln Park; Warren Kautz of Romulus, sister of the bride; and Kathy Opatkiewicz of Romulus wore identical costumes, their bouquets being comprised of yellow carnations and baby's breath.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Kerry Henrikowski of Romulus, to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were another brother, Alan Henrikowski of Dearborn Heights and Robert Blevins and Duane Marshack, both of Romulus.

At Roma's of Garden City, where the reception was held, the bride's mother greeted the 225 guests in a floor-length chiffon gown fashioned with an ivory skirt and cocoa-colored bodice accented with a chiffon cape. Her wrist corsage was made of ivory roses and miniature carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose to wear an aqua formal gown of chiffon with a matching cape trimmed with seed pearls. She, too, was presented with a wrist corsage but of yellow roses and tiny carnations.

Also honored with flowers was the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Eva Garipey of St. Petersburg, Fla. Other out-of-staters arrived from Punta Gorda, Fla., Denver, Colo. and Silver Springs, Md.

Prior to taking up residence in Taylor, the newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Both young people are graduates of Romulus High School. The new Mrs. Henrikowski is employed at Micro-Measurements of Romulus and her husband is with Kelsey-Hayes of Romulus.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents on Barry Drive.

One of the Belleville area's best known couples, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin E. Kureth, celebrated 50 years of togetherness on Aug. 13 when members of their family and a host of friends gathered for a buffet dinner and open house.

Their son-in-law and daughter, Dale and Kathleen Rennell, played host to some 100 guests at their home in Wayne. Assisting throughout the day were the honored couple's other daughter, Mrs. Walter (Marilyn) Kaplan, who'd come in from Los Angeles, Calif. for the happy occasion; a granddaughter, Lori Atchley, also of Los Angeles; employees of Kureth's Apparel, and several relatives.

Mrs. Kureth wore for her special day a long gown of sheer gold lame' with a companion jacket. In lieu of a corsage she was presented with a duplicate of her original bridal bouquet—white roses, baby's breath and ivy, complete to hand-tied satin streamers.

Highlighting the late afternoon hours of the party was a family "musical" with Darwin's cousin, Marian Kureth Collins of Vista, Calif., singing a special solo for the golden anniversary pair and Ron and Connie Kinzel of Lexington, Ky. serenading with a vocal duet. From there the remainder of the group took up a sing-along of old favorites and hymns which continued into late evening.

Darwin R. Kureth took Laura Balsley as his bride on Aug. 18, 1928 when they exchanged nuptial vows in the garden of her parents home in Redford Township. Besides their two daughters, their family tree lists four grandchildren: Patricia, Lori and David Kaplan and Dale (Tony) Rennell, and four great-grandchildren.

The Kureths resided in north-west Detroit prior to moving to Belleville some 36 years ago. Mr. Kureth was with the Ford Motor Company prior to "retiring" and joining his wife in the family business, Kureth's Apparel, a local women's shop which was opened on Belleville's Main Street in September of 1949.

Both the Kureths, who make their home at 1109 E. Huron River Drive, have been active in local clubs, churches and organizations as well as politics; Mr. Kureth having served as Supervisor of Van Buren Township as well as trustee and fire commissioner.

The guest book was signed by relatives and friends from Vista and Los Angeles, Calif.; Denver, Colo.; Lexington, Ky.; Empire, Owosso, Traverse City, Belleville and many neighboring cities.

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

A friend, according to Webster's New World Dictionary is: a person whom one knows well and is fond of; an ally, supporter, or sympathizer.

Webster's Collegiate defines friend as: one attached to another by esteem, respect and affection; an intimate; one not hostile and one not a foe.

And there's an old quote (probably pronounced by some sage old Greek centuries ago) that also fits this item — "No one is rich enough to do without a friend."

I relied on "My Friend" again last week; dropping in on her unannounced, asking (and receiving) a big favor, taking up her time and even getting a free cup of coffee to boot.

"My Friend", though I see her seldom, always seems to be there when I need her and she's seen me through and shared with me both the bad and the beautiful plus some pretty mercurial ups and downs.

What's important is she's there to listen but at the same time will ask my advice or opinion; gives yet is not too lofty to accept; is always the first to say "Thanks", "I enjoyed" (whatever happened recently), "I hope you're feeling better", "How are the girls?" and she's the very last to complain.

Mainly, tho', she's there, she's my friend, and I'm very lucky. And you know what, there are dozens of others who share her friendship as I do.

It's common knowledge, of course, that a baby rabbit is a bunny and a baby sheep a lamb. But did you know that a little grouse, partridge or quail is a "cheeper"; a small rooster a "cockere"; an infant eel an "elver" or a wee kangaroo a "joey"?

The young of dogs, tigers and beasts of prey are referred to as "whelps"; those of the mackerel as "spikes", "blinkers" or "tinkers" and baby pigs are known as "farrows" and "sucklings" as well as "piglets" and "shoats".

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels being the leading causes of death in our country, the American Heart Association (AHA) once again alerts us to the warning signs of an impending heart attack or stroke.

HEART ATTACK SIGNALS — Prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest; pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.

— Sweating may accompany pain or discomfort.

— Nausea and vomiting may also occur.

— Shortness of breath may accompany other signs.

STROKE ALARMS — Sudden temporary weakness or numbness of face or limbs.

— Temporary loss of speech or trouble speaking or understanding speech.

— Temporary dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.

— An episode of double vision.

— Unexplained dizziness or unsteadiness.

— Change in personality or mental ability.

— New or unusual pattern or headaches.

The AHA advised immediate action at the onset of these symptoms. The Association points out that over half of heart attack victims die before they reach the hospital and that the average victim waits three hours before seeking help.

Probably the very favorite all-round dessert at our house is apple dumplings and, with the apple season pending, we can look forward to a batch or so when the "kids" come home. Practically every good cookbook has a recipe for that particular meal-ender so, instead, I'd like to share with you another after-dinner goodie we all enjoy (especially Carol.)

Found "Peachy Side Ups" in a Betty Crocker Cook-Off book about a decade ago, gave 'em a trial run and the results proved repeatable. Hope your family agrees.

PEACHY SIDE UPS

6 tablespoons honey
6 peach halves
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 cup any pancake or waffle mix chopped pecans (optional)

Cinnamon Whipped Cream

1/2 pint whipping cream
1 tablespoon powdered sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Generously butter six large (6-ounce) custard cups. Spoon 1 tablespoon honey into each. Top with a peach half, cut-side up. Combine milk with egg and oil in pint jar (or in a small mixing bowl.) Break yolk and add pancake mix; shake until well blended. (Batter will be slightly lumpy.) Pour batter over peaches to cover. Place in shallow pan and bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes until light golden brown. Cool five minutes; loosen edges and invert into sauce dishes. Serve warm (that's best) with the whipped cream and pecans.

Cinnamon Whipped Cream: Combine cream, sugar and cinnamon and beat until thickened. Prepared whipped topping may also be used. Serves six.

CONGRATULATIONS to two of the dearest people we know here at the E-R — Darwin and Laura Kureth — who (as you'll see proof of on these Suburban Living pages) recently chalked up their 50th year together.

"Together" being meant in days-of-yore connotation, not as "being together" as so many of today's twosomes regard it.

To refer to their shared half century of marriage (or any other) as "wedded bliss" is pure corn — strictly the stuff of Victorian romanticists. But to reach that golden plateau and still transmit that "aura" for each other (and look and act as young and with it as those two) IS something to set down in print.

From all of us here "across the street" — best wishes for many more years of good health, prosperity, contentment and the love of friends.

I'm into ANOTHER good book this week, written by that favorite new discovery of mine, Robert Ludlum. He's succeeding again in keeping me awake nights with his "Rhinehart Exchange", 446 pages of well-woven suspense and intrigue.

Recruited into being a secret agent because of his background, the main character fulfills his "appointments" in Spain, the Azores, New York City and Buenos Aires with American and Nazi Germany playing a deadly and baffling game with HIS life. Set in the middle years of World War II. Espionage fans, this is for you!

THE BOTTOM LINE: Get someone else to blow your horn and the sound will carry twice as far.

Club anniversary celebrated

The Van Buren Garden Club of Belleville tallied its 20th year of service to the community at a special luncheon meeting Sept. 12 at the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Fred Trickey, Director of District I Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, was invited to be guest speaker. On hand to welcome her to the city were (from

20th anniversary marked by Van Buren Garden Club

The Van Buren Garden Club met Sept. 12 to celebrate the 20th year of its founding and invited Mrs. Fred Trickey, the District Director of all Wayne County Area Garden Clubs, to be guest speaker.

Members of the club escorted their guest on a tour of Metro Park and the Huron Valley Steel Company to see how effective landscaping can be. They also took her to see the grounds and patio of the Fred C. Fischer Library which the club maintains as its current project.

Twenty years ago the group's original endeavor was the beautification of the grounds at Denton Road and Main Street in Belleville.

At the potluck luncheon which followed in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, Mrs. Trickey presented a talk on "The Importance of Garden Clubs." She stressed that people should take a personal interest in landscaping the state highways; an active interest in new legislation to protect the environment from litter and pollution; and pride in beautifying one's home.

She explained that by joining a garden club women can open themselves to new talents and involve other people in new ideas. She suggested that the club work with groups of young people, such as scout troops, to give them the benefit of their experience and knowledge and actually demonstrate how the club works with its community.

The Van Buren Garden Club would like to increase its membership and is looking for women interested in beautifying their community while enjoying the social activities of the club meetings.

Those interested in joining may call Mrs. Nellie Van Wormer, the chairman of the membership committee, at 699-3861.

ADK makes plans for new club year

The women of Alpha Delta Kappa, national women educator's sorority, met at the home of its new president, Marian Batzer of Clarence Street, Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 12. Along with her co-hostess and the new club treasurer, Janice Fry, she served punch, cheese and crackers for refreshments.

Plans for the new club year, previewed by vice-president Frances Stapleton, included a future program on the construction of pine cone wreaths and work on a hand-made log cabin quilt in order to donate financially to an educational need.

Other officers of the sorority for the 1978-79 year include Carrietta Preuninger, treasurer; Dorothy Arthur, recording secretary; Leona Kozma, chaplain; Patsy Pyshnik, sergeant-at-arms, and Evelyn Larabell, historian.

YWCA resumes Encore

Encore, the postmastectomy rehabilitation program sponsored by the Western Wayne County YWCA of Western Wayne County, began a new year at Woodworth School in Dearborn on Sept. 13.

The weekly sessions will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The program is open to any woman who has had a mastectomy any time after three weeks following surgery and with a doctor's written permission. The fee is $2 per session.

The basic aim of Encore is to provide physical and emotional rehabilitation through exercises, as well as supportive group discussions. At the weekly session, the 90 minutes is divided into a half hour of gentle exercise done to soft music, a half hour of swim exercise — one of the quickest ways to redevelop muscles and regain flexibility — and a half hour of discussion — receiving practical information and sharing experiences or feelings.

A nationwide YWCA program, Encore serves as a vital support system for women who have experienced the crisis of losing a breast — either recently or many years ago.

To insure a high quality of standards and safety program there is an advisory committee made up of representatives from both the Michigan Cancer Foundation and the American Cancer Society, social workers, doctors and nurses.

Audrey Wasserman, area program director, and Nancy Clauer, swim instructor, will be conducting the Encore sessions. For further information or registration, contact Ms. Wasserman at 561-4110.

Nausleys new baby is a girl

The little daughter born Aug. 31 to Ivan and Annette Nausley of 16278 Brandt, Romulus, will answer to the name "Heather Marrie" when she's old enough to be called out to play by her big brother, Ivan

Richard, who's eight-years-old. The eight pound-five ounce newcomer made her debut at 7 p.m. at Riverside Hospital in Trenton and measured 20 inches.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ivan

FLOWERS AT FUNERALS

In ancient days, fragrant flowers and strongly scented spices were ever-present at funerals. Wild flowers lent a natural beauty to the tribal funerals along with a "living" tribute to the departed tribesman. Flower and spice fragrances "perfumed" the area. Today, flowers have retained an important place in funeral service. Today we can't always pick our own flowers so we have florists who design and produce breathtakingly beautiful floral pieces. Flowers add a bright, colorful beauty to a setting which may seem sombre to some. Flowers still add beauty to a casket and provide a hint of delicate fragrance. Floral pieces treat kindly our senses of sight and smell. Still a "living" tribute, they are an emotional contribution to the comfort of the surviving family, a testimonial that the funeral, indeed, is for the living! As an expression of sympathy and love, flowers serve admirably when the sender cannot be present to offer condolences. Most florists have developed special floral arrangements for funerals. If you have questions about funeral flowers, ask us — better still, ask a florist!

VFW Auxiliary
Molik cottage

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Molik of Ypsilanti were hosts at a potluck dinner at their cottage on Tiago Lake with VFW Auxiliary to Post 4434 of Belleville as guests. Shirley Cullin, Florence and Odella Hunter, Gladys Bordt and Edna Harris represented the local group with Marilyn Deming accompanying Odella Hunter.

Also present were Alberta Kievit of Grand Rapids, a friend of the host and hostess, and their daughter and granddaughter, Sue Ann Dolin and Amy.

The Auxiliary's business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 21 will also be the official visit and inspection of the Auxiliary by the 14th District President Charlotte Kazar of Ecorse. Members are urged to attend this very important meeting.

Meanwhile, down in Alexandria, Va., Elizabeth Giertruda Roddick, put in her appearance on Aug. 17 at Alexandria Hospital. The first-born of Paul T. and Trudi Roddick, the little girl measured 19½ inches and tipped the scales at eight pounds - three ounces.

The paternal granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Roddick of Westland, Elizabeth made her debut at 11:32 a.m.

On Sept. 3 the newest Roddick received the sacrament of baptism at St. Thomas Catholic Church in Alexandria with a host of relatives in attendance.

Her God-parents, who traveled down from Michigan, were her aunt Patti Evanski and uncle Bob Evanski Jr. Also making the trip southward were both sets of grandparents, the senior Evanskis with sons, Chuck and Jerry; the senior Roddicks; and the infant's great-aunts and uncles, Robert and Nan Morris of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Evanski and family of Maybee.

Paul and Trudi later entertained at a dinner on the patio of their apartment in Alexandria.

first-place ribbon for her agnan and a second-place ribbon for her rug, both in the senior citizen section.

Foursome visits G. Kleemans in Germany

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Riggs, Miss Florence Renton of Savage Road and Mrs. Henry (Alice) Herkimer of Denton Road returned home on Friday, Sept. 7, after having spent the past six weeks at Wurzburg, Germany with the former's son-in-law and daughter, Gary and Shelly Kleeman and their children, Andrea, Alissa and Jonathan.

Among the many interesting places visited were Nuernburg, Heidleburg, Salzburg Oberammergau, Hitler's Eagle Nest, many famous churches and Rottenburg Castle.

They also spent a week in the Austrian Alps and enjoyed a cruise down the River Main. They report the weather was cool and everywhere the flowers were beautiful and numerous.

After having spent the past 10 days, visiting an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Luper of Karr Road, and other relatives in the vicinity, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kuerth returned to their home in Beulah last week Sunday.

Mrs. Betty Fulton of the Harris Apartments on Liberty Street was guest of honor at a farewell dinner given by friends at Nickerson's Tin Lizzie last Wednesday evening, Sept. 13.

Following the dinner the nine close neighbors and friends who were present presented her with little mementos of the occasion and many good wishes for her future happiness.

Betty, who has lived in Belleville and vicinity for the past 32 years, will be leaving shortly for her new home in North Lauderdale, Fla. Her new address will be 1200 S.W. 52nd Ave., Bldg. No. 1, Apt. 212, North Lauderdale, Fla., 33068.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Lake Villa Apartments spent last weekend visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Keefe, while they were camping at Four Seasons at Grass Lake.

On Sunday, Sept. 10, the descendants of the late Kirby and Kathryn Wilson met for the third annual reunion at the Dapsi home on Willis Road with 52 members of the family present from Monroe, Westland, Romulus, Ypsilanti and Belleville to partake of a bountiful dinner.

During a short business meeting new officers elected were Jean Wilson of Willis Road, president, Mike Zaborowski of Ecorse Road, treasurer; Bob and Diann Harkai of Romulus will have charge of the games.

The afternoon was spent socially and with games provided for the children as well as the adults. The hosts for next year will be Frank and Betty Harkai at their home on Willis Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schadler of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brightman and family of Lincoln Park were callers Sunday afternoon at the Liberty Street home of Mrs. Maude Brightman.

Mrs. Carl Simmons of Largo, Fla., and Mrs. J. H. Tator of High Street motored to Marine City last Tuesday where they called on mutual friends, Mrs. Lee Dursee and Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

On Saturday, Sept. 9, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street attended the baptismal service for her great-granddaughter, Rachel Dawn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Brighton, at Emmanuel Lutheran Church at South Lyon.

Following the 12 o'clock service she also attended a luncheon given by the baby's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prash, at South Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Boldt of Roland Street were among members of the Boldt family who attended a family reunion on Sunday, Sept. 10, at the cottage of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Brendt, at Evans Lake in the Irish Hills.

Other members of the family were present from Monroe, Dundee and Petersburg.

On Sunday, Sept. 10, Mrs. Dorothy Kellas of Margery Street attended the first fall meeting of the Strand-Weeks Club, O.E.S., held at the home of Past Matron, Jean Schwartz, of Novi. Others, who were present for the pot luck dinner, came from Detroit, Warren, Milford, Plymouth and Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Lake Villa Apartments and their daughter, Sharon of Ann Arbor, recently returned from a 3-weeks trip to Florida. Motoring down, their first stop was at Live Oak where they visited Mrs. Clark's father, Ned Delegal and family. Then it was on to the Pompano Beach area where they visited Blanche's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. K.D. Eatmon and their family.

Enroute home they stopped at Live Oak again and then in Dalton, Ga. where they visited, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith, the former being an army buddy of Verne's.

A friend, Mrs. Harold Klaiss of River Rouge, was an overnight guest last Wednesday of Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street.

On Saturday, Sept. 9, Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty Street attended the wedding of young friends, Sheryl Saunders of Plymouth and Tim Larson of Livonia, at Unity of Livonia Church at 6 p.m. She also attended the reception and buffet dinner held at Mill Race Historical Center in Northville.

Romulusites welcome Kimberly

The arrival of their third child, a daughter, on Aug. 23, is announced by Ken and Bonnie Mientkiewicz of 37207 Menton, Romulus.

Making her debut at 9:13 a.m. at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, Kimberly Anne weighed five pounds - 14 ounces and measured 19 inches.

On hand to welcome her home were her 10-year-old brother, Kenny, and her sister, Jennifer, who's three.

Kimberly, who makes an even dozen grandchildren for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mientkiewicz of Romulus, is the third for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gasidlo of Belleville. She also will go down in the family history as the 30th great-grandchild born to Mrs. Matilda Rise of Belleville, who's 82-years-old.

Kimberly's mother is the former Bonnie Gasidlo.

Garden Club opens season

The Huron Valley Garden Club met for its initial meeting of the new season on Sept. 11 at the Juniper Drive home of Mrs. Don Blend. President Mrs. James Kause welcomed the group to the afternoon meeting at which tentative plans were made for the ensuing year.

With two of the more experienced members, Mrs. John Gras and Mrs. Melvin Budd as instructors, the group then put together both live and dried flowers which they had gathered from their own gardens.

The hostess later served refreshments to the 13 members attending.

Museum shows off antique baby carriages

"Rubber baby buggy bumpers" may be an occasion for laughter today, but the infants who rode in the antique baby carriages on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, would probably have welcomed such luxury options.

A far cry from the lightweight, collapsible conveyances popular now, most of the early carriages seem to have been designed with anything but baby's comfort in mind. In an era when most children's items were simply scaled-down adult models, infant transportation was no exception.

The oldest carriage on exhibit, built c. 1865, is a miniature version of an adult chaise. With the tiny passenger strapped into the seat, locomotion was provided by a person who pulled the curved wood pole which extended from the carriage front. Wood wheels and the crude roads of the time would have made for a rough ride.

As is the case today, adult vehicles of that time were used for status as well as transportation. So, also, were the carriages of the children. One of the most elegant of those on exhibit is a phaeton-type baby carriage built c. 1885. The black wood body has red striping with gold decoration; the black leather top is lined with red satin; the black leather curtain in the rear, lined with red corduroy, sports an oval glass; the seat is ornately upholstered in red satin; the floor has red carpet. Two miniature carriage lamps mounted on either side of the black leather dash add a final touch of opulence. This carriage, too, was designed to be pulled rather than pushed.

The most eye-catching carriages in the collection, however, are those dating from the 1880s through the first decade of the 20th century. Carriage bodies became elaborate constructions of wicker or bamboo reeds, woven in intricate scrolls, rosettes, and whorls. Mail-order catalogs offered a variety of models and appointments. In selecting upholstery, for example, parents could choose among silk plush, silk damask, imported mottled corduroy or Egyptian damask in colors such as salmon pink, pomegranate, Nile green, bronze gold, wine and electric blue. Some carriages were carpeted. A luxury accessory was a parasol, which came lined or unlined, color-coordinated, and trimmed with lace.

Babies who rode in these definitely traveled first class. A 1905 wicker carriage, complete with parasol, is part of the museum's exhibit; in that year it was purchased from a Detroit store for $38, at the time approximately a month's wages for a skilled mechanic.

The museum's collection of antique baby carriages — as well as children's tricycles and sleighs — is part of its comprehensive Transportation Collection, which includes most modes of transportation "from the cradle to the grave" — including a gleaming black c. 1860 horse-drawn hearse. The collection of automobiles is the most comprehensive in the world.

Henry Ford Museum is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. thereafter. Admission is $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children 6 through 12. Children under 6 are admitted free. For further information, call 271-1620.

'Benito Cereno' to open U of D theatre's season

The University of Detroit Theatre, two-time winner of the American College Theatre Festival, has scheduled its 1978-79 season of plays to be presented at its two performance centers.

The eighth season features seven productions. Of these, the first six will be staged at The Theatre, located at Marygrove College, 8425 West McNichols at Wyoming, Detroit.

The season opens on Sept. 29 with Robert Lowell's "Benito Cereno", a melodrama about the problems that arise when a troubled Spanish slave ship appeals to an American Naval vessel for assistance.

"The Caucasian Chalk Circle, to be staged in November and by Bertolt Brecht, weaves a stimulating tale of humanism and social comment, and provides an exciting example of Brecht's use of music and myth.

Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid" is a classic farce in which a hypochondriac deduces that if he marries his daughter to a doctor, he will receive "free" medical care. It's slated for December.

"Moonchildren, by Michael Weller, is a comedy about five college men and their co-habitants, none of whom has any real purpose in life. What keeps them going is their gift of mockery and the "put-on." It's on tap for February.

Set in a bawdy Irish bar, Brendan Behan's "The Hostage" probes and comments on Anglo-Irish relations, and the Irish themselves, while "The Fantasticks," by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, follows. It is New York's longest-running musical — a celebration of love and innocence that lives up to its name.

The final production of the season is the Michigan premiere of Tom Cole's "Medal of Honor Rag", a drama based on the actual experiences of a black Medal of Honor winner who has returned to Detroit from Vietnam. The play will be presented at Studio 100, located in Shipple Hall on the U of D campus, West McNichols at Livernois, Detroit.

Music guild hosts all baroque concert

An all baroque concert will open the ninth season of the Fair Lane Music Guild on Sunday. Featured artists will be Bert Lucarelli, oboe, and Judith Norell, harpsichord.

The concert is set for 7:30 p.m. at historic Fair Lane Conference Center, once the home of Henry Ford and now a part of the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Music by Bach, Telemann, Scarlatti, Marcello, and Danican-Philidor will be featured on the program. Concertgoers will be able to meet the performers at an afterglow immediately following the concert.

Judith Norell, harpsichordist, is a versatile musician who is the founder and director of the Baroque Music Masters. She has given recitals at the Smithsonian Institute, the Library of Congress, and the Carnegie Recital Hall.

A native of New York, Norell first played piano, but devoted more and more time to the harpsichord, leaving the piano completely while in England where she studied with Rafael Puyana. She later finished her studies at the Juilliard School with Albert Fuller.

Bert Lucarelli, noted oboist, has appeared in recital regularly in New York at Lincoln Center and Carnegie Hall and in Boston at the Gardner Museum. He has toured Europe and America as guest soloist with Solisti Veneti.

Season tickets for the Music Guild's five-concert chamber music series are $18. Individual performances are $4.50 for general public and $2.50 for senior citizens and U of M-D students. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The complete Fair Lane Music Guild season will include the following concerts in addition to the Lucarelli, Norell concert:

— Music Matinee Walk Oct. 1 at 3 p.m.

— The American String Quartet Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

— McCollum-Stout-Hodge Concert December 5 at 8:30 p.m.

— Toronto Consort March 11 at 7:30 p.m.

— De'Peyer-Tsutsami-Burganger April 8 1979 7:30 p.m.

For further information about the Fair Lane Music Guild concert series, call 593-5556.

'Salmon fever' strikes

State anglers converge on 34 rivers, bays and lakes

The Michigan angler's annual bout with "salmon fever" begins in earnest this month as the silvery monarchs of the Great Lakes converge on 34 state rivers, bays and lakes.

"Salmon fever" now in its 12th season, is characterized by the urge to wade hip-deep in numbing cold rivers, spend hours on cramped boats and spend hundreds of dollars on rods, lures and electronic gadgetry. A half-million persons are expected to be struck by it this fall.

The fever reaches its peak as returns from plants of four million coho, now averaging 25 lbs. each, and three million chinook, now weighing up to 40 lbs., attract anglers. Best lake fishing should last through early October, with rivers hosting heavy runs from late September to early November.

The most improved fall fishing should be on two Lake Michigan rivers with 30 more miles of stream open than at the start of last season and on one Lake Huron stream where spawning runs were below normal last fall.

To halt unwanted spawning and help control snagging, weirs will operate on four streams open to fishing. West Michigan's Bear Creek and the Jordan and Pere Marquette rivers will have weirs removed Nov. 1. A permanent weir will halt fish on the Platte River near Honor. However, controlled salmon runs will be allowed above barriers on the Platte and Pere Marquette.

The first 30,000 salmon reaching the permanent egg-taking weir on the Platte River will be released into Loon and Platte lakes and the upper river. Additional releases made weekly should mean excellent river fishing through early November. Last year, just 37,000 salmon were allowed upstream the entire season.

On the Pere Marquette, 100 chinook and coho will be lifted daily over the temporary weir at Walhalla to provide quality fishing on the upper river, including the flies-only section near Baldwin. Last year, a weir halted nearly all salmon from progressing up river.

Fishing also is expected to improve on Lake Huron off Oscoda and in the Au Sable River. Last fall, chinook salmon runs there fell below predicted numbers.

This year, mature 3-year-old fish and some monster 4-year-olds from plants averaging 317,000 annually should darken waters off Oscoda. It also is hoped that an agreement with Consumers Power Co. to keep the Au Sable River's level constant downstream from Foote Dam will result in excellent fishing conditions and heavy runs through early November.

Other east Michigan chinook hot spots should be harbors at Harrisville and Au Gres. Coho, brown, steelhead and lake trout will lure anglers to Tawas Bay through October.

Good coho fishing also is expected in the Thum area off Diamond Creek near Port Hope and off Elk Creek in Sanilac State Park in Sanilac County.

In west Michigan, excellent chinook runs are forecast for Grand River and its tributaries as well as the Kalamazoo and Muskegon rivers. Both coho and chinook—plus Steelhead in November—will be in the St. Joseph River.

Offshore anglers on Lakes Michigan and Huron will find success improving daily throughout this month as main schools of fish move to shallower waters in preparation for spawning runs.

In the Upper Peninsula, the Dead River near Marquette and the Menominee in Menominee will have good chinook runs while there will be good coho fishing on six other rivers.

This is the fourth season State Department of Natural Resources officials are trying to bring salmon fishing to the upper Detroit River off Belle Isle.

Returns from earlier chinook plants in the river have been slim to none. Yearling coho salmon were planted at Belle Isle last year, and it is hoped that a mature run will materialize in the river by late September.

Sections of 13 streams are open this year to "liberalized" fishing regulations which allow anglers to keep foul-hooked Pacific salmon from now through Dec. 31.

Fishermen are restricted to using unweighted double or treble hooks no more than three-eighths inch from point to shank or single hooks no more than one-half inch from point to shank. For dates and sections open on each stream, consult the DNR 1978 Michigan Fishing Guide.

Anglers planning a charter boat trip should count on spending $35 to $50 per person for a half-day's fishing, with most skippers requiring a minimum of four passengers. For a free copy of the Michigan Charter Boat Directory, write the Michigan Travel Commission, Lansing 48913.

Society to meet

Area residents will have a chance for a close encounter of the genealogical kind, when the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society hosts a seminar Oct. 21.

Guest speakers for the seminar, which will be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn, 14707 Northville Road, Plymouth, will include archivist James Dent Walker of the National Archives in Washington, D.C., David Olsen, Michigan state archivist, and Peter J. Schaldenbrand of the Detroit and Farmington societies. The special guest will be State Sen. Robert S. Geake.

The $12 per person registration fee includes lunch and a genealogical packet for the seminar. Registration time will be at 9 a.m. that day, with the seminar slated to run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Also included in the program will be genealogical displays, as well as genealogical books and supplies, which will be for sale.

Reservations for the seminar can be made through William McCormick at 38623 Lancaster, Livonia 48154. Checks should be made payable to the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society. Deadline for reservations will be Oct. 9.

'Monty Python' returns to 56

Just when you thought it was safe to watch Channel 56 again, "Monty Python" returns to inflict its outrageous comedy on the Detroit area for another 39 weeks.

"Monty Python" will be seen Thursdays at 10:30 p.m. following "Second City TV."

Although "Monty Python's Flying Circus" has been out of production for more than six years, the programs still attract a large and faithful audience. The irreverent comedy team of John Cleese, Michael Palin, Eric Idle, Terry Gilliam, Graham Chapman and Terry Jones throw together what might be termed a "souffle of lunacy" that, when consumed in large quantities, can become addicting.

For those who are not familiar with the series, it should be told that the title means absolutely nothing. There's no python or circus and little, if any flying. The series of comedy vignettes and blackouts are, at times, seemingly unrelated. The show has been described as everything from inspired and insane to completely without redeeming value.

One thing is certain, however. Whether the skits concern the bicycle repairman, the Confuse-a-Cat Service or the man with a tape recorder up his nose, nobody can say that "Monty Python's Flying Circus" is an everyday, run-of-the-mill television show.

YWCA to host marriage class

The special problems confronting second marriage families will be discussed in a new course, "His, Hers and Theirs", offered by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Geared for individuals who have remarried and brought children of a previous marriage to a newly created "blended family", the course will cover such topics as "Will we be another 'Brady Bunch'?", fighting favoritism and fantasies, getting it together as a couple, advantages of a blended family, what's normal and whatever happened to the wicked step-parent.

The course also is designed for individuals considering remarriage, since it will deal with realistic and unrealistic expectations of problems a "blending family" might encounter.

Grayce Miller, school social worker for the Wayne County Intermediate School District and of the Academy of Certified Social Workers, will instruct the six-week course, which begins Sept. 25.

The course will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the YWCA Building, 262729 Michigan Avenue, Inkster.

Registration for the course is being accepted through Sept. 22. Fees are $14 per person, or $20 per couple.

For further information contact Mitzi Hoffman, program director, at 561-4110.

Metropark has art competition

Award winning art works from the 1978 Michigan Wildlife Art Competition prepared by high school artists from all over Michigan continue to be featured at the nature center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock through Sunday.

Nature center hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday; and 1 to 5 p.m. weekdays, with Tuesday through Friday mornings reserved for school groups by advance reservation.

The art show is sponsored by the Cranbrook Institute of Science (Bloomfield Hills, Michigan) in a one-year tour of the state.

More people save at NBD for life's little pleasures than at any other bank in town.

One of life's pleasures is raising a family of your own. It's one of life's big responsibilities, too. So you have to plan your finances carefully. That's where National Bank of Detroit comes in. No bank in town has more savings plans than NBD. So chances are, you'll find just the plan to fit your needs.

Take NBD's EveryDay Interest Savings Account, for instance. It's a great way to put away a little money whenever you have it, for those unexpected times when you... and your family... really want or need it. You can withdraw your money anytime you want... without losing interest. And all the while, you'll be earning a 5% annual interest rate compounded continuously, for an effective annual yield of 5.20%. That's interest earned from date of deposit, right up to the day of withdrawal.

An EveryDay Interest Savings Account is just one of NBD's many money-saving plans. You'll also find short-term Time Deposit Savings Accounts, long-term Time Investment Certificates and short-term, high-return Money Market Certificates. Keogh and IRA retirement programs. You're sure to find one perfectly suited to your needs—and paying the highest bank interest you can earn anywhere.

And NBD makes it more convenient for you to save, too... with more locations, more drive-in windows, more people to serve you, and longer banking hours than any other bank in town. No wonder more and more people turn to NBD to make life's little pleasures even more enjoyable.

Making banking...and saving...better for you.

Similar savings plans are offered by the following NBD-affiliated banks: NBD Commerce Bank, Lansing; NBD Port Huron Bank; NBD Troy Bank; Grand Valley National Bank, Grandville; National Bank of Dearborn.

Field goal lifts Glenn over Northville

Deluca's 20-yard boot saves Rockets

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Betrayed by an inconsistent offense and receivers who obviously needed glue on their hands, Westland John Glenn turned to kicker Kal Deluca in the last seconds of their game Friday night against Northville.

And Deluca came through with a 20-yard field goal which broke a 6-all deadlock and gave the Westlanders a 9-6 victory over their non-conference adversaries.

It was an uphill climb for Coach Chuck Gordon and his Rockets until Deluca's crucial boot.

"But, the big thing is that our kids fought back," Gordon said. "They didn't quit. We were down 6-0 at the half and these kids refused to be beaten. You have to be pleased with that kind of determination."

Northville scored on a three-yard run by Dan Davis in the second quarter and that culminated a 60-yard drive.

A gal with a decision to make

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Pam Prater would like to compete in the Michigan High School Athletic Association's inaugural state cross country championship for girls.

But, the pretty 15-year-old John Glenn sophomore may not be in the field despite the fact that she's one of the distance runners in the area.

Finishing 13th at the inaugural Schoolcraft Invitational for girls last Saturday, Pam has a decision to make which Coach Jerry Szukaitis calls a 'dilemma'.

"We just don't have enough girls out for the sport of cross country," said Szukaitis. "Pam and I have asked around and haven't come up with five girls who are interested in competing in the sport."

"So, I have left it up to Pam — if we don't have a team I would like her to compete with and on our boys' team, however, if she does, then she would be ineligible to run in the regional and state meet for girls."

"It's a pretty hard decision for her to make, after all, Pam is among the best in the area and off of her performance at Schoolcraft (she finished 13th with a 21:39.4 performance) I feel she has a good chance to go to state. And, remember, this kid is only a sophomore and has two more years of eligibility ahead of her."

Szukaitis pointed out that "there has been a decline in the number of students out for athletics this year."

"It's not only cross country that is caught up in the numbers game," noted Szukaitis who has spent 15 years coaching the sport and is the dean of area coaches, "but it appears that all the rest of the sports has lost considerable amounts of athletes."

What's the reason behind the decline?

Jerry says 'jobs'.

Meanwhile, over at Belleville High, the Tiger cross country coach Dave Medley was strolling in the hallways last Monday when he suddenly felt a sharp abdominal pain.

When the pain refused to give up, Medley decided he better go to University Hospital in Ann Arbor to check it out.

Right decision.

After doctors at the hospital examined Medley, they decided the pain was caused by a delinquent and inflamed appendicitis. Dave underwent an appendectomy and won't be back with his team until next week.

Coach Tom LeBeau also received a scare last week when his daughter, Lori, dumped a pan of grease on her while the family was enjoying a bit of fondue.

"The grease fell in her lap and burned her badly," said the New Boston Huron coach, "but she'll be all right. I guess we're pretty lucky and I guess we won't be fondue for some time."

And, Eric Gears, who is exciting over the prospects of Canton High's football team this season is disappointed at an incident that could end a tradition. Here's what he has to say:

Dear Mr. Mooradian:

Something beautiful is happening in the City of Plymouth and the townships of Plymouth and Canton. The kids of Plymouth Canton are no longer interested in such mundane events as smoking, drinking, discoteque-ing and vandalism.

These kids have found something much more exciting to occupy their time...cheering.

The reason for their new found avocation is Coach Dave Schuele's Canton Chiefs football team. These kids are excited. They're involved, and most of all they are in love with their team.

Not since the early sixties have I seen such enthusiasm from high school students. They are perhaps a little rowdy, but it is indeed a good kind of rowdiness and it is directed for their classmates and their heroes down on the field.

They are chanting, "We're No. 1," and they are congratulating the players after the game, even more important they are watching and becoming involved in the game.

If you don't think this is unusual take a look around you the next time you go to a high school game. Very often there is more going on under the stands than in them. Most kids don't know the score, who's playing, nor do they care. To a lot of kids going to a game is

Doug Tolson places first at Schoolcraft

Spartan golfers start fast

With a pair of easy league victories already to their credit, Coach Bill Kelley and Cherry Hill's golfers served notice that they will be swinging for the Tri-River Conference golf championship this year.

"We have a pretty solid team made up of one senior and the rest juniors," said Kelley who ran second to Riverside a year ago. "I feel we have surprised a few people this early in the season."

Cherry Hill clipped Southgate 158-178 in the league opener, then dumped Melvindale 160-175. The Spartans' lone loss was at the hands of Thurston (149-165).

Terry Doyle has been setting the early pace for the title hopefuls. He shot a 2-under-par 34 (9 holes) at Warren Valley to emerge as medalist against Southgate. He shot a two-over-par 38 against Melvindale.

Terry and his twin brother, Kevin, along with Bob Elkins, Ken Hamilton, Dave Michno, Duane Eckmann — all juniors — and senior Ben Michno — form the nucleus of the 1978 Spartan squad.

Chiefs to face Northville next

Canton makes it 2 straight

By ERIC GEARNES
(Special to ANP)

With some fans and media members calling Plymouth Canton's victory over Livonia Bentley last week a fluke, the Chiefs went out and did it again. The same way as before!

Coach Dave Schuele's Chiefs once again showed their strong defense, and this time mixed in a little offense to defeat the Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Cougars 14-0. The Canton victory was their second in a row and surpasses their total victories for the last two years.

After receiving the opening kick Annapolis moved the ball to their own 42 where they gambled on fourth and two. The Chiefs front wall of Greg Santilli, Dave Tanner, and Craig Gears caught Cougar Jim Scott in the backfield for a two-yard loss and Canton took over.

Canton then moved the ball very well with Rusty Mandle, Joe Mallare and Quarterback Scott Dawson carrying the mail to inside the Cougar 10. The chiefs then committed a couple of costly mental errors and along with a 15 yard holding penalty were pushed back to the Annapolis 41 and forced to punt.

The Canton defense then took over and key tackles by Steve Eddy, and Mandle held the Cougars in check.

Throughout the remainder of the first half the two teams attempted to penetrate very tough defenses on the ground, but the punting of Eddy and the strong defensive play of Bill Van Hoose, Tanner, Gears, Santilli, and Mandle held the Cougars in check.

Throughout the remainder of the first half the two teams attempted to penetrate very tough defenses on the ground, but the punting of Eddy and the strong defensive play of Bill Van Hoose, Tanner, Gears, Santilli, and Mandle held the Cougars in check.

Annapolis returned the favor with Scott, Ken Farkas and Bill Cote making the stops.

The half ended in a scoreless deadlock with neither team really threatened. Annapolis did manage to get close enough for a field goal attempt by Mark Holey, but Eddy put on a ferocious charge to block it.

The second half appeared at first as if it were going to be an "instant replay". Canton received and managed a first down on a 12 yard scamper by Mandle. The Cougar defense then held and the Chiefs were forced to punt and Eddy got off a beautiful 55 yarder.

After staunch defensive work by Van Hoose and Mandle held the Cougars, Canton took an Annapolis punt and began to roll on offense.

With the line play of Alan Olzewski and Charles Nyhus opening big holes, Mandle and company began to go to work. The Chiefs moved 52 yards with Mandle compiling 35 in seven carries and Mallare and Bob Hambling picking up key first downs to the Cougar one. Mandle then took a hand off up the middle from Dawson and Canton was on the board 6-0, with 4:52 remaining in the third quarter.

Annapolis then attempted to move through the air but Canton junior Jay McKinley picked off a Farkas pass to stop the drive.

After an exchange of punts the Chiefs took possession on their own 40 yard line, but two broken plays shoved them back to the 30. With third down and 20 Mandle took a Dawson pitch around left end and rambled for 60 yards to the Annapolis 10.

Mandle then went up the middle twice for seven yards and culminated the drive with a three yard scamper around end for the score. The Chiefs then converted, for the first time this season, on a pass from Dawson to McKinley, and the Chiefs lead 14-0 with 4:05 remaining in the game.

The Cougars then tried desperately to get back into the game by passing but interceptions by Tanner, and McKinley's second pickoff of the night ended the Annapolis hopes, and handed them their second defeat of the young season.

Schuele was less than happy with his team's performance, however, "We didn't play very well offensively in the first half," said Schuele, "I think we may have gotten caught looking past Annapolis to Northville."

Mandle took game rushing honors with 176 yards in 23 carries and already has Canton fans talking about the possibility of a 1000 yard season. Mandle now has 281 yards in two games.

Over-all the Chiefs picked up a total of 220 yards on offense with 18 first downs, as compared to 146 for Annapolis and nine first downs.

Canton now begins to prepare for Western-Six League play, scheduled for Friday night at 8 against Northville at Plymouth.

Obstacle ahead

Glenn field general, Rob Suida (9) looks for a weak spot in the Northville defenses in Friday night's confrontation that was resolved by Kal Deluca's 20-yard field goal with 18 seconds remaining in the game. Glenn pulled out the decision 9-6 after trailing for 3 1/2 quarters and, despite some flaws in the offense, Coach Chuck Gordon said he was "happy with the victory because our kids fought back and refused to quit."

Turnovers (8 of them) help Stevenson subdue Franklin

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Teams that live in the past die in the present, a philosophical statement that Livonia Franklin would do well to stick on its lockers.

The traditionally strong Patriots, who have the honor of earning the first Class A state football title three years ago, are having their problems.

was one of the worst Franklin gridiron defeats in recent years.

"They mopped us up," said Vigna who doesn't hold back any punches. "They just dominated us and we assisted them a great deal."

Franklin fumbled four times deep in their territory and also was intercepted twice and made two other key turnovers in a game that started off with the the Patriots having a vantage point.

On the first play of the game, Franklin jolted Stevenson as quick-moving running-back Jerry Cifor broke loose for a 70-yard touchdown run. Then Don Boka kicked the extra point and with less than three minutes on the clock Franklin had established a 7-0 lead.

But that was to be the only bright spot in what became a long and dismal afternoon for the Patriots.

Stevenson countered with two touchdowns in that opening quarter as the Spartans intercepted on the Franklin 29 and eventually scored on quarterback Dave Hall's 8-yard pass to James Becker. Then Jim Gemuend kicked his first of five

Inkster is first big test for champ, Robichaud

With the torture of losing two close ones on their minds, Robichaud gridders will place their Suburban Athletic Conference football title on the block Friday afternoon when neighborhood rival, Inkster, comes to town.

"You can use all the cliches you want like tossing out all of the records, but its true," said Robichaud Coach Bob Yauck whose team goes into the league opener with an 0-2 record. "These kids know one another and all of them will be playing their hearts out."

"The game can go either way," Yauck added.

Inkster, which had an open date last Friday, lost its opener two weeks ago to Detroit DePorres. Coach Arnice James is rebuilding a program that was hit hard by graduation.

Robichaud erupted for 16 points in the third quarter against Clarenceville but it wasn't enough as the Bulldogs' nonleague rivals posted a 20-16 victory.

Clarenceville struck early as the Spartans scored in the opening quarter and built up a 20-0 halftime lead before the Dearborn Heights gridders came back and made a game out of it.

"We didn't hit anyone in the first half," Yauck said afterward. "We didn't play football. We just went through the motions. However, it was a completely different story in the second half. They dominated us the first two quarters - we did it to them the second half."

Robichaud got on the scoreboard early in the third period when sophomore quarterback Sydney Brisbane engineered a 60-yard drive that culminated with running back Mark Woodson scoring from eight yards out. Ronald Williams booted the extra point.

In that drive, Brisbane completed two key passes - one to Darryl Goree for 25 yards and the second to Major Ragland which covered 19 yards.

Robichaud struck again midway in the quarter after an exchange of punts. The Bulldogs put together a 10-play, 70-yard march with Brisbane hooking up with Glen Carreathers on a scoring 20-yard pass. Williams recovered Goree's fumble in the end zone which provided Robichaud with a two-point conversion.

Brisbane, who completed eight of 18 passes for 187 yards, connected on two aerials to Goree for 40 and 20 yards.

Robichaud had its chances to win it but muffed the opportunity. The Dearborn Heights gridders drove "to the one-inch line" in the second quarter but failed to pick up what would have been the decisive touchdown.

Yauck pointed out that "the team's performance in the third and fourth quarters was the first time this year that the squad played up to its abilities. In the third and fourth period we showed signs of becoming a football team."

For what its worth, Robichaud had an overwhelming edge statistically. The Bulldogs racked up 356 yards to Clarenceville's 151, had 11 first downs to nine and rushing for 169 yards in 31 plays as compared to Clarenceville's 32 plays and 92 yards.

However, Robichaud was charged for 145 in penalties to Clarenceville's 17.

Woodson picked up 76 of those yards on nine carries and Goree nabbed three passes for 85 yards.

"I feel if we can play the way we did in the last half against Clarenceville," said Yauck, "we'll salvage the rest of the season."

Don't expect Inkster to cooperate, Robert.

Belleville's Cougars had their share of problems last week in Garden City as the local gridders managed to salvage one of three games.

The Cougar freshmen blanked the hosts 20-0 as Danny Ziegler ran for two touchdowns and Richard Kozole scored the third. Dennis Montie and Dave Brinkerhoff accounted for the extra points.

But that was the lone bright spot of a warm and humid afternoon for the Cougars who watched as the junior varsity unit succumbed 7-1 and the varsity bowed 13-6.

In the junior varsity confrontation, Andy Winnie, Charlie Brown, and Jerry Umin stood out defensively, while Russell Thomas ran 70-yards in the varsity contest for the lone Cougar touchdown.

just a reason to get out Friday or Saturday night.

The kind of love which is being exhibited by the Canton student body needs to be encouraged. Unfortunately in last Friday's contest Annapolis certain school guards chose to discourage the students show of affection for their team.

It is apparent that the students are trying to start a tradition at Canton. Several kids go on the field before the second half begins and form a corridor for their players to run through on their way back on the field.

They started doing this in Canton's first game at Livonia Bentley. The Bentley people had no objections and the young people conducted themselves in a very orderly, well behaved manner and left the field immediately after the team had come on.

Last Friday the kids did the same thing only this time on their own field, but still in a very orderly fashion. However, the Plymouth school guard corps decided this was not fitting conduct. A very intelligent fan appealed to the higher authorities and the kids were allowed to stay only on the sidelines which, of course, dampened their enthusiasm, and destroyed their very young tradition.

This kind of irresponsible behavior by adults can only lead to discourage the young people from trying to support their team in their own way.

Of course I understand that the guards have a job to do, but these young people were not causing any trouble and the action by the guards was uncalled for.

I commend the students for their spirit and their enthusiasm and I encourage them to continue. I implore the officials to reconsider their actions.

Please remember that the teams on the field are high school teams and belong to the students.

Please don't make high school football an adult social event - return it to the kids.

Today's energy-efficient heat pump keeps heating costs from going up the chimney.

In the old days you had to stay close to the hearth to keep warm because most of the heat from a blazing fireplace went right up the chimney. Even with today's modern furnaces, some of the heat goes up the chimney and is lost outdoors. Not so with a heat pump.

Now the energy-efficient heat pump can keep you warm in winter by moving natural heat always present in the outdoor air inside your home.

The heat pump is generally the most energy-efficient way to heat homes, apartments, offices and commercial buildings because it makes good use of natural heat. During periods of low temperatures supplementary heat is added automatically.

In summer the heat pump saves on cooling costs, too, because it's also an energy-efficient air conditioner.

So consider a heat pump for your next heating system—because using natural heat is a natural way to conserve energy and to keep heating costs from going up the chimney.

For more information on the heat pump, call or stop in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Save where it really counts. The power is in your hands.

Mason sets record as Churchill clips Huron

Chargers' running back rushes for 206 yards in 14-6 victory

Behind the record-setting running performance of senior halfback Doran Mason, Livonia Churchill's dazzling football express streaked past Ann Arbor Huron 14-6 Friday night.

The second straight Churchill victory, posted over highly-respected teams, has established Coach Ken Kaestner's squad as the team to beat in the area.

Mason, an All-Area and All-Conference performer a year ago, rushed 206 yards on 27 attempts and scored one touchdown to top his previous school mark of 179 yards.

"We're just excited about the way our offense has been playing," said Kaestner whose team will take a 2-0 nonleague record into Friday night's Western Six opener against Walled Lake Western.

"You know our defense seems to give ground," Kaestner continued, "but whenever the chips are down they seem to come up with the big play. And I'm really pleased."

Churchill broke a scoreless first quarter with an early touchdown in the second period. Quarterback Rick Coppola put together a 70-yard drive which featured some pinpoint passing and Mason's running that ended with a four-yard T toss to flanker Mark Leidholdt.

Coppola also kicked the extra point and the Chargers made the 7-0 lead stand up until the third quarter when Huron struck for its lone touchdown.

The Ann Arbor grid machine churned out 65 yards and Dennis Valine carried the ball in from five yards out for what proved to be their lone score of the game.

Huron elected to go for the two-point conversion but its plans were foiled by Paul Neville who stopped the ballcarrier short of the goal line.

The Livonians put an insurance touchdown on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter as Mason took charge. In a 70-yard drive that put Mason in the spotlight with a couple of dazzling runs of 40 and 13 yards, the Chargers sealed the victory when their running back crashed into the end zone from the seven and with four minutes left in the game.

Then Coppola made good on the extra point to put the Chargers up by eight.

DORAN MASON

The rush is on

Four good reasons why Romulus shut out visiting Detroit Pershing 20-0 last Friday were the defensive performance by Darryl Lewis(9), Dwayne Parker(14), Shawn Green(33) and Reece Workman(78) who put pressure on the Doughboy quarterback all afternoon. The Eagle defense held Pershing to four first downs and a total of 34 yards rushing while the secondary made up of Vince Bean, Richard Lewis, Mike Johnson and Jim Sullivan jammed the air routes as the losers failed to complete a pass in 18 attempts.

Champs head for Allen Park

Upset-minded Dearborn gives Salem a scare

With their millage problems behind them, upset-minded Dearborn took on the undefeated Suburban 8 Conference champ, Plymouth Salem, and managed to shake the Rocks up before falling 10-7 to Coach Tom Moshimer's club.

The thriller brought up the curtains to the conference season which promises to be an exciting one, according to Moshimer.

"Trenton is awesome," Moshimer warned, "but there are other teams in this league this year that have vastly improved over a year ago. Allen Park, for example, is an extremely defensive ball club - they held Edsel Ford to less than 100 yards last week.

"And we get them Friday night," Moshimer added. Commenting on the Dearborn game, the veteran Salem coach said, "that we're happy over the outcome and feel fortunate to have won it."

Dearborn scored in the first quarter after a 65-yard drive and the Pioneers managed to defend their 7-0 lead until midway in the fourth period.

In the closing minutes of the game, the Rocks defense, spearheaded by Chris Kappler, Scott Piper and Chris Papa managed to pin Dearborn deep in its own territory and forcing the Pioneers to kick out of their own end zone.

Salem got possession of the ball on the Dearborn 30 and quarterback Rich Hewlett polished off the short drive with a two-yard touchdown lunge. It was up to Rich Hanschu to tie the score and he made good on the point-after attempt.

Dearborn found the going tough after the ensuing kickoff and returned the ball to the Salem 29 via a punt where Hewlett again got down to work and drove his team to the Dearborn 16 where eventually the drive stalled and Moshimer called upon Hanschu for a 26-yard field goal.

Hanschu hit the mark with 15 seconds remaining to give the champs a 10-7 lead. However, Salem was slapped with a 15-yard penalty, so was forced to kick off from the 25. Dearborn managed to get one play off - a pass - which was incomplete before the final whistle.

Despite the closeness of the score, Salem had an overwhelming edge statistically. The Rocks had 17 first downs to Dearborn's four and 275 yards rushing to Dearborn's 61. Hewlett was oh-5 passing, but he picked up 101 on 28 carries which was a decisive factor in the outcome of the game.

"We moved the ball up and down the field," said Moshimer, "and missed on three excellent scoring opportunities. We were either stalled by penalties or gave the ball up on downs.

"Like I said, we're happy to have won this game, but it should not have been this close," Moshimer added.

New Boston bows to Tecumseh, 28-14

Tecumseh is still the Huron Conference football champ. And New Boston Huron can't argue that point, especially not after Friday night's 28-14 setback.

"We are not a good football team right now," said Huron Coach Tom Lebeau who was disappointed with the over-all performance of his team. "We have played in spurts and that isn't going to win ball games."

Winless in their first two games, Huron will host Monroe Jefferson Friday night and if the Chiefs' skid doesn't end then, it will be a long year for the New Boston contingent.

Tecumseh took the lead in the first quarter when John Ely made good on a 24-yard run to culminate a long drive the first time the champs had possession of the ball.

Randy Bolz kicked the extra point.

But Huron came right back and tied it up as Randy Richardson grabbed the ensuing kickoff and raced 75 yards into the Tecumseh end zone. Randy Pichan's point-after was good and the two teams were tied up at 7-all.

However, Tecumseh exploded for two touchdowns in the second quarter to take command for good. They got on the scoreboard thanks to a 75-yard pass-run play with quarterback Jon Betzoldt teaming up with Craig Borton. Borton also intercepted a Pichan pass intended for cousin, Jerry Pichan, which turned into Tecumseh's second TD in the quarter.

After the champs built up a 28-7 lead, Huron came back in the last quarter and scored on the Pichan-to-Pichan combination which covered 13 yards.

"We had other opportunities to get on the scoreboard," said Lebeau, "but couldn't capitalize on them because of penalties or turnovers.

Lebeau pointed out that it was a hard-hitting and good defensive game and singled out linebackers Bob Boker and Tim Mandeville for playing outstanding games.

"Our front line, played well," Lebeau offered, "but, we are not a team as yet."

You'll never convince Bill Overman that the fish aren't biting in Belleville Lake.

Especially, not after what happened to Overman and a couple of his friends.

Using a "Daredevil" hook, Overman bagged a 24 lb. Tiger

Muskie and needed some help from Martin Jerdne and Pat Spoonamore to haul in the battling fish.

Spoonamore and Jerdne didn't walk away empty handed, either. Jerdne's prize for the day was a 17-pounder, while Jerdne pulled in a 21 pound muskie.

Pershing's Doughboys surrender, 20-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

There are some therapeutic qualities of playing before a home crowd. Ask Romulus head football coach Don Foley and his Eagles.

Despite the drawback of not fielding a team last year because of millage failures, Romulus porved to visiting Detroit Pershing that it hasn't lost its winning edge. Before the Doughboys from Detroit could establish a beachhead, Romulus struck for a touchdown in the first quarter then went on to subdue its rival, 20-0, for their first victory of the 1978 campaign. It was also Foley's first win as the Eagles' head coach.

The victory evened up Romulus' record to 1-1. The Eagles dropped their opener to St. Alphonsus of Dearborn last Saturday.

"Our program is back on the right track," said Foley afterward. "But we have a lot of work ahead of us."

Foley said he doesn't have any visions of grandeur, pointing out "we have a long season ahead and some real tough teams to play."

"But you have to be pleased with what the boys did Friday night and I know that we are all proud of what they did."

Now if Romulus, an independent team, could get the Detroit school officials to allow them in the PSL, it'd be in business. (Just dreaming, Don.)

Richard Lewis got Romulus on the scoreboard early in the first quarter when he seeped through the Doughboy defenses and raced 39-yards into the Pershing end zone. Then quarterback Michael Brooks elected to go for the two-point conversion and picked out John Kersey as his receiver. The ball missed its target.

Romulus held on to the lead and increased it in the third quarter when Brooks hooked up with tailback Michael Johnson on a 68-yard scoring screen pass. Johnson had been inserted into the game when Lewis dislocated a finger in the second quarter.

Romulus completed the rout with a fourth quarter touchdown. Shawn Green polished off a midfield sustained drive with a two-yard TD plunge. He also accounted for the two-point conversion.

Pershing, which was coming off of a victory against its city rival, Northeastern, was held to a mere three first downs thanks to an Eagle defense which was spearheaded by tackle Robert Knight, end Tom Schick, end Darryl Lewis and Mark Sullivan, who also intercepted a 3-mile course and helping Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras pick up a second place team trophy.

Northville replaced Wayne as the invitational champ, compiling 54 points to second-place Wayne's 106. Righetti said he was pleased with his team's over-all performance and "in time, I feel this team is going to be as great as last year's undefeated one."

Tolson and teammate Paul Spencer, who finished seventh in the over-all standings, along with Livonia Churchill's Bob Stansberry, who was 10th, were named to the 10-man Schoolcraft College's all-invitational team.

Glenn's Jim Kanclerz, who was the top performer for Coach Jerry Szukaitis' Rockets, wound up 13th as he covered the course in a respectable 16:40.0.

Touchdown bound

Leaving a host of Pershing Doughboys in his wake, Romulus' Richard Lewis(7) takes off for a 39-yard touchdown run in last Friday's home debut for Coach Don Foley's Eagles. Romulus jolted the Detroiters 20-0 to pick up their first victory in over a year. Romulus didn't field a team last year because of millage failures. Lewis, who was the Eagles' leading rusher against Pershing, will be sidelined for Friday's confrontation with Ann Arbor Huron. He sustained a gash on his hand which required five stitches to close.

Spartans running for title

Coach Joe Grasley and Cherry Hill's runners want the Tri-River Conference cross country crown returned to the Inkster-based high school.

After winning the title five years in a row, the Spartans surrendered what appeared to be a permanent fixture to Dearborn Heights Crestwood a year ago.

"If we can stay healthy, we'll be tough," noted Grasley.

That is easier said than done. Key performers such as junior Ramon Lara, among the top runners in the state a year ago, and Keith Leverton, who co-captained the Spartans a year ago and finished among the top 10 in the state, have had a variety of problems.

Leverton is suffering from a leg injury and "it'll be quite some time before he'll be in circulation," according to Grasley. Lara visited Mexico during the summer and only recently reported to the team.

"We're definitely behind schedule," Grasley said, "but, once we get ourselves together we're going to be strong."

Cherry Hill began its league season with a 22-35 triumph over Southgate as Lara and Mike Michno rana "dead heat" for first place. The two covered the 3-mile course in 17:14. Teammate Kurt Smith was third with a 17:34 effort.

The Spartans finished seventh with Ken O'Day (18:36), ninth with Kurt Seibold (19:01) and Ron Bleai(19:01) and Andy Kovolski(19:48) were 10th and 11th, respectively.

Doran Mason sets record

Huron didn't give up, however. They came back with the ensuing kickoff and marched to the Chiefs' 27 before time ran out.

Neville, Tory English — two stalwart Churchill linebackers — along with Steve Krick played exceptional defensive games.

Churchill had the edge in first downs 10-8 and in rushing yardage 236-198 while both teams fumbled twice and lost the ball on both occasions. Larry Beaudoin and Richard Grodak recovered for the winners.

Kaestner, who fielded an undefeated team in 1972, isn't ready to come out and say that the 1978 model will do the same, "not with such teams as Farmington Harrison, Waterford Mott and Northville ahead of us."

"We have a tough Walled Lake Western on our mind," Kaestner said. "That's what we're getting ready for right now."

That game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday at Churchill stadium.

Belleville 'speciality teams' scheduled for big over-haul

Heading for certain anonymity after losing 57-14 to Trenton last Friday, Belleville will be putting in overtime on its "speciality teams" to over-all a football machine that has given up 90 points in the first two games.

Trenton leaped into the lead 13-0 after the first quarter and had the game well under control, 30-6, at halftime as Belleville failed to give the pre-season Suburban 8 Conference title hopeful any resistance.

"You know I can't blame our defense, though it would appear that a team that gave up 57 points had its problems on defense," said Belleville Coach Pat Stokes. "But if we are to fault anyone it's our speciality teams.

"Trenton returned punts and kickoffs on us and that's where the vast majority of their points came from."

David Mehrhoff returned a punt 59-yards early in the first quarter for Trenton's initial touchdown and he also kicked a 14-yard field goal after Belleville's defense refused to yield any ground in the second period.

Jerry Matwiczoyk accounted for three other Trenton scores, one a 77-yard kickoff return.

Belleville scored in the second quarter on quarterback Tim Ellsworth one-yard sneak. The Tigers also tallied in the last frame thanks to Brian Brinkerhoff's one-yard plunge. An Ellsworth to Mike Cuik pass counted for the two-point conversion after the second TD.

In the closing minutes of the opening half, Brinkerhoff came up with another one of his sparkling runs when he broke loose for a 45-yard gain, but was caught from behind.

"We knew that Trenton was tough," said Stokes, "and our object in this game was to improve and, despite the lopsided score, I felt that the team did improve with the exception of our speciality teams."

Stokes and the Tigers will return home Friday night and await undefeated Edsel Ford whose credits include an out of the league victory over city rival, Fordson, and a hard-fought 13-8 triumph over conference foe, Allen Park.

Statistically, against Trenton, Belleville picked up five first downs to Trenton's 10 and rushed for 131 yards to 388. Ellsworth connected on five of 14 passes for 52 yards and was intercepted once. Trenton went to their five times and completed two for 104 yards. Belleville fumbled twice and lost the ball once while Trenton lost the ball once for its midhanding the ball.

In a relatively penalty free game, Trenton had the edge 50 yards to 10.

A little attention and simple maintenance will prevent breakdowns and maintain top efficiency of your car's electrical battery unless you are using one of the new permanently sealed ones. Also, keep the top of the battery case clean by rubbing it with a dry rag. Keep a close watch for accumulations of greenish white corrosion on the terminals and the top of the case. Small deposits can be brushed off without removing the battery, but it's more effective to remove the battery and wash it with a solution of water and baking soda. Use a cloth dipped in this solution to clean the battery carrier, hold-down, and clamp. Romulus appoints gals' cage coach

There is an aura of optimism surrounding the Romulus high girls' basketball team, a team that saw last year's campaign wiped out because of a millage failure.

With a new coach — and a score of promising candidates, Romulus hopes to make up for lost time.

Mary Sharpe, who guided Milan to a 7-2 season a year ago, has been named the head coach for the girls' cage team and she says, "For a team that didn't play a year ago, these girls look pretty good."

Romulus will begin the 1978 season at home on Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m. against Belleville.

Seeking varsity status are Jeanette Carmichael, who at 5-9, is the tallest member of the team, Blinda Wilson, Michelle Russell, Debra Dixon, Chandra Brown, Lela Tennille, Charolette Daniels and Deana Warren.

Also out for the team are Jean McCain, Gina Carter, Kim Coleman, Tina Gray, Shelly Hearst, and Carol Roberson.

Wayne, Glenn harriers are off to fast start

Defending champ Wayne Memorial picked up where it left off a year ago and breezed past Taylor Truman 18-45 in its first defense of the Great Lakes 8 Conference cross country title this season.

Led by Doug Tolson, Wayne nailed down the four of the first five places. Tolson and Paul Spencer finished first and second, respectively, then Andy Stopchinski trailed in fourth, followed by Gary Dyke, Dave Rose, Don Wellman and Joe Tonna, who swept the fifth through eighth positions.

"If we can get some consistency in the our fifth man, we're going to have a team that could be even greater than last year's," commented Wayne Coach Ernie Righetti. "We have some excellent talent on this team."

Righetti's 1977 model had a perfect season.

However, any Wayne plan of duplicating last year's feat was quickly dispensed by Dearborn Edsel Ford which claimed a victory over the Zebras thanks to a new rule. The Michigan High School Athletic Association has installed a rule that if there is a tie in a dual meet, the tie will be broken by the results of the sixth man.

Wayne and Edsel each had 28 points but because the Dearbornites' sixth man finished ahead of Wayne's, the victory was awarded to the T-Birds.

Tolson established a school record when he finished the three-mile Wayne course in an enviable 14:42. Spencer had the third best time (16:03), while Mark Michalowski was sixth; Tonna, a sophomore, eighth and Stopchinski was 11.

Wayne is home on Thursday, hosting Taylor Center, before heading to the Shrine Invitational scheduled for 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Meanwhile, Westland John Glenn, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ, lost a 22-35 decision to out of the conference rival, Adrian.

Adrian's Jim Miller and Doug Heikkinen, who are considered to be contenders for the state title, finished first and second with 15:40 and 16:15 performances, respectively. Glenn's Jim Kancierz was third (16:20) and teammates Cory Gielinski (16:27) and Tom Andrews (17:02) provided the Westlanders with fifth and sixth place finishes.

Glenn also received a ninth from Tim Unold, whose brother, Ted, is a former All-State and All-Area endurance runner from Glenn. Unold, a sophomore, was clocked in 17:36. Chuck Hanaker and Joe Prater were 11th and 12 respectively for the Westlanders.

Glenn Coach Jerry Szukaitis wasn't particularly pleased with his team's performance.

"We're not coming around the way I had expected," Szukaitis said.

Romulus and Coach Al Wilkerson started the year with a 25-30 victory over Taylor Truman but lost a 15-48 decision to neighboring Belleville. The Eagles have New Boston Huron and the Garden City West Invationals on Thursday and Saturday.

"We're thin in numbers this year," said Wilkerson who saw his season wiped out a year ago because of millage failure. "We're regrouping after losing the year and really have one solid performer from the squad of a couple of years ago."

That one holdover is Frank Holliday, who was sidelined in the Truman meet because of ineligibility. Without Holliday in the lineup, teammate Dave Hemuth set the pace for the Eagles and finished second (16:31) behind Truman's Paul Baize (16:20).

Romulus placed third with James Davis (16:54), while Mario Olmos (17:44) and Joe Lemmons (17:54) were fifth and sixth. Randy Givens was ninth in a 18:40.

A 1,000 mile runner

Westland John Glenn's Jim Kancierz proved he has the endurance to run 1,000 miles over a span of 100 days and for his accomplishment the 16-year-old junior was awarded a T-Shirt indicating that he is a member of the Rockets' elite 1,000 Mile Club.

Making the awards' presentation is veteran Glen Coach Jerry Szukaitis (at left) who inaugurated the program. "We have a lot of kids who run, but not 1,000 miles," said Szukaitis. Kancierz is Glenn's cross country team captain this season.

Local gridgers at Grand Valley

A few good reasons why Grand Valley State College has the inside track for winning the conference title are former area football stars Bill Lee (from left), ex-John Glenn quarterback, Paul Svabik, linebacker for Glenn, and Steve Borgelt, defensive tackle from Bishop Borgess. All are freshmen. Grand Valley has to its credit an impressive 34-7 victory over Northeastern Illinois.

Welcome back, Romulus

fourth quarter Doughboy pass.

Pershing also failed to complete a pass because of an alert Romulus. Defensive accolades also went to linebacker Kersey Bince Bean and Michael Johnson.

Brooks hit on 5 of 12 passes for 104 yards while Pershing went 0-18 in the air and Les Beregsasy and Dwayne Parker leaped on fumbles.

Richard Lewis' 61 yards in eight attempts paced Romulus' ballcarriers and Beregsasy had 33 yards in six tries.

Romulus will be without the services of defensive tackle Robert Knight when the Eagles take on Ann Arbor Huron Friday. Knight sustained a severe ankle injury and Kersey is also a questionable starter. He suffering from a hand injury.

Friday night's game, scheduled at 7:30, will be played at Ann Arbor Pioneer's field. Huron is coming off of a close loss to undefeated Livonia Churchill and all scouting reports indicate "that Huron is a great defensive team," according to Foley.

"We scouted them against Churchill," Foley revealed, "and I can say this about them - they are tough on defense and explosive on offense and that combination always means we have to be ready."

Fordson netters hand Wayne 1st loss

Wayne Memorial's stock in the Great Lakes 8 girls' tennis conference took a turn for the worst last week as unbeaten Fordson won a 6-1 decision over Coach Jack Armstrong's Zebras.

The loss left Wayne with a 2-1 conference record and a 3-1 over-all mark.

"We have gotten off to a relatively good start," Coach Armstrong said, "and we're going to have to wait and see what the other teams have before we decide just where we stand in the title picture."

Armstrong pointed out that one of the reasons why his team is improved "is because he is receiving ample assistance from Kyle Poteau and Jeff Holderness, two of the standouts on the boys' team."

Wayne didn't have any problems with league rival Taylor Center earlier in the week. The Zebras blanked their rivals 7-0.

Julie Postal and Mari Sotala helped Wayne avert a shutout against Fordson. The No. 1 doubles team earned the squad's lone point by beating Pam Stik and Lri Williams 6-1 and 7-6.

National Smoker Study Hails Merit.

'Enriched Flavor'™ cigarette scores high marks in five key areas.

Can MERIT deliver the flavor of leading high tar brands?

Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or are MERIT smokers slipping back to old high tar favorites?

Read the bottom-line results of new research conducted with smokers like yourself.

MERIT Breakthrough Confirmed

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy.

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first major alternative to high tar smoking.

Games are scheduled for Sept. 29 and 30, 1978.
Deadline for this week's contest is Sept. 28, 1978.

HOW TO ENTER

1. Check each advertisement carefully for the teams playing this week's games.
2. Pick the teams you think will win from each advertisement.
3. Fill in the entry blank on this page according to the corresponding number in each advertisement.
4. When you've picked all 12 teams, find the "Tie Breaker" box and pick the number of points you think the two teams will score jointly and enter that in the space shown.
5. Clip out the entry blank and bring or mail it to the Eagle office on or before Thursday of each week by 5 p.m. (Our offices are located at 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne 48184, and at 405 Main St., Belleville 48111.)
6. And don't forget to check all the advertisers for great savings on many, many items. Thank you.

RULES

All entries must be in our office before 5:00 p.m. Thursday of each week. So, if you're mailing yours, fill it out well in advance. Entries may be made on facsimiles, post cards or plain sheets of paper or on official entry blanks. Copies of the newspaper are available for inspection free at our office.

Weekly prizes will be awarded to the entry picking the most winners.

One (1) $25 Winner for 1st prize
One (1) $15 Winner for 2nd prize and
One (1) $10 Winner for 3rd prize

In case of tie, the "Tie Breaker" will be in effect. If this results in a tie, the winner will be picked by a drawing. Employees of ANP and immediate families are not eligible to enter. All tie games will be scored as a wrong answer unless you have picked the game to end a tie. Each week's winners will be announced on the Sports Page of the following week.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan:

Sirs: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on August 24, 1978, decide and determine that the certain streets described in the minutes of said Board be County roads under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners. The minutes of said meeting, fully describing said streets are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 415 Clifford Street, Detroit, Michigan, at 8:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, August 24, 1978.

Present: Chairman Berry, Vice-Chairman Herron and Commissioner Burton.

Commissioner Herron moved the adoption of the following resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that it hereby accepts the dedication to the use of the public of the following described roads and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Chatsworth and Worthington Courts, Burlington, Winfield and Worthington Roads, as dedicated to the use of the public in BROOKSIDE VILLAGE WEST SUB 'N', part of the N.E. 1/4 of Section 24, T.25, R.8E, Canton Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 98 of Plats, on Pages 15 and 16, Wayne County Records, constituting a total of 0.714 mile of County roads.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Burton and carried by the following vote: Ayes: Commissioners Herron, Burton and Berry. Nays: None.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan this 29th day of August, A.D. 1978.

REAL ESTATE MINI-SEMINAR

Sponsored and presented in the public interest by Sims Agency of Wayne, in co-operation with the American Real Estate Academy.

Here's your chance to get valuable information from the experts . . .

TOPICS of the seminar will include . . .

- How will recent changes in Michigan Real Estate laws affect you?
- How long should it take to list your house?
- What is the truth behind Real Estate franchises?
- Are you really getting the best price for your house?
- What's happening with FHA, VA and conventional interest rates?
- How can you be sure you're not getting "ripped off" when buying or selling your house?

Attendance at this Seminar could be the Best Investment in Time and Money you will Ever Make!

—EACH PARTICIPANT—will receive a valuable kit of materials for their future reference, including a State Real Estate Handbook.

PRESENT - will be many leading Real Estate Authorities to assist in the question and answer period, and all participants are allowed to take notes and use (their) tape recorders.
